

McMinnville Employment Agency Reaches 2015 Circle Of Excellence

March 18, 2016

March 18, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The McMinnville, OR branch of Express Employment is proud to announce that they have reached the 2015 Circle of Excellence. For the temp agency in McMinnville, OR, this is a tremendous honor. It is a testament to just how many people they have been able to help, and they want to make it clear that they could not have achieved it without the help of the community itself. They look forward to another year in the country's most beautiful wine country.

Stevie Whited from Express Employment Professionals says: "We are very proud of our team here in McMinnville. Their hard work and dedication are what have allowed us to receive this great honor. We look forward to another amazing year of helping our community and our clients."

All Express Employment Professionals offices are in the business of building communities and hope. The McMinnville staffing agency achieves this by helping to find job seekers the right career, and employers the right candidates. They have worked hard to simplify their process, while making it more effective at the same time. They are fully dedicated to providing the best quality service to their employers and candidates at the same time. They do this through their Certified Staffing Consultants who meet with candidates and employers individually.

Those who have worked with the employment agency have been incredibly positive about the services they have received. "Stevie is an amazing person to work with," says Kristen Dollarhide, who has worked closely with the agency. "Stevie knows each and every one of her clients. Her staff is as wonderful and knowledgeable as she is. You can tell she truly cares about what she does!"

Having reached the 2015 Circle of Excellence, Express Employment Professionals will have to continue to deliver the same standard of service and go above and beyond expectations in order to retain this position. They are fully committed to doing this, and to remain the area's go-to employment and staffing agency, both for temporary and permanent contracts. People are encouraged to regularly check their website to find out about the latest job opportunities on offer.
