Owl About Owls, a business in Battle Ground, WA, is proud to announce that they have a brand new look for their website. Furthermore, they have added exciting and adorable new jewelry and other products to their stock. More details are available on the company's website on <http://owlaboutowls.com/>.

Kalon Wiggins from Owl About Owl says: "As our name suggests, we are obsessed with anything related to owls. We have redesigned our website to give it a friendlier look, and we have also updated our stock with lots of new, fun, owl jewelry and other products. We encourage any owl enthusiast to come and check us out."

The company currently offers jewelry, clothing, accessories, and items for babies and kids. Some of their featured products include owl phone cases, owl mugs, t-shirts with owl prints, owl hats for babies and owl rings, bracelets, pendants, and earrings. All are made using high-quality materials that are durable and designed to look fantastic for a very long time.

As part of their updated site, the company has also launched their social media campaign. In so doing, they have started a Facebook page that is already attracting a lot of likes. Here, they share details about the various products that they have on offer, but also cute owl pictures and facts about owls in their natural environment. They also encourage others to share their own owl information.

"Owls are just the most beautiful, and cute, birds in the whole world," adds Kalon Wiggins. "In a perfect world, I would be surrounded by them all the time and I know many people feel the same. The sight of an owl flying at night, with the moon as its backdrop, is an image of pure magic. We just want to share this natural beauty with the world."

Besides Facebook, the company has also launched their Pinterest and Instagram accounts. They encourage everybody to check these pages out for more information on the products that they have available and on owls in general. Additionally, people can share their own images there, including pictures of the Owl About Owl products that they may have purchased.
