January 12, 2026 -
Atlanta National Pickleball Club (ANPC) offers a dedicated indoor pickleball venue for group events in Metro Atlanta, supporting corporate gatherings, private celebrations, and family events. The facility opened in Fall 2025 and was developed to accommodate organized group use centered around pickleball, with event coordination and on-site support available for a range of group sizes and formats.

As participation in pickleball continues to increase nationwide, Atlanta National Pickleball Club serves as a location where recreational play and group event planning are combined within a single facility. The venue is used for corporate outings, birthday celebrations, family gatherings, and other scheduled group activities that incorporate structured or casual pickleball play.

ANPC?s event offerings are built around its Cushion-X pickleball courts, a specialized court surface designed to support consistent play during extended use. The facility includes a total of 18 indoor pickleball courts, allowing it to host both small group reservations and larger scheduled events. This court capacity enables event organizers to plan gatherings ranging from limited private groups to larger corporate or social functions while maintaining access to dedicated court time.

?Our goal with the facility was to create a space that could reliably support group events of different types and sizes,? said Mina Muirhead of Atlanta National Pickleball Club. ?By opening with 18 indoor courts and on-site staff, we?re able to coordinate events that include structured play, open play, and time for groups to gather off the court.?

Corporate organizations utilize Atlanta National Pickleball Club for team-building activities, client events, holiday gatherings, and internal company functions. Pickleball is frequently selected for group events due to its straightforward rules and ability to accommodate participants with varying levels of athletic experience. ANPC offers corporate event packages that may include reserved court time, facilitated play formats, dedicated event staff, and coordination with food and beverage partners. These options allow companies to structure events around activity schedules while keeping planning centralized within one venue.

Private events hosted at ANPC include birthdays, milestone celebrations, and social gatherings. Event hosts can reserve court space exclusively for their group and choose between structured play formats or open play depending on the nature of the event. Designated gathering areas within the facility allow guests to take breaks between games and socialize throughout the event. Food and beverage services are available through on-site partners, giving hosts the ability to arrange refreshments as part of their overall event plan.

Family gatherings are also held at Atlanta National Pickleball Club, including reunions and multigenerational outings. Pickleball?s format allows participants of different ages and skill levels to take part in the same activity, making it suitable for groups that include children, adults, and older family members. The facility?s layout and scheduling flexibility support rotation between play and non-play time, while staff assistance helps manage event logistics.

In addition to court space, the ANPC facility includes areas designated for group coordination and social interaction outside of active play. Event hosts work with on-site staff to plan timing, court assignments, and overall flow based on the size and structure of the event. These features allow events to take place entirely within one location without requiring additional venues or off-site coordination.

Following its Fall 2025 opening, Atlanta National Pickleball Club provides a Metro Atlanta venue designed to support organized group events centered on pickleball. Through its court capacity, scheduling options, and event coordination services, ANPC accommodates corporate, private, and family gatherings within an indoor pickleball facility.
