

The Grounds Guys of Rapid City Announces Expanded Winter Service Portfolio for SD Commercial Properties

January 28, 2026

RAPID CITY, SD - January 28, 2026 -
The Grounds Guys of Rapid City announced today the expansion of their winter service offerings for commercial properties throughout South Dakota, introducing enhanced snow management protocols and advanced ice prevention techniques ahead of the 2024 winter season.

The Rapid City-based landscaping company has added new equipment and expanded their service team to address increased demand for comprehensive winter maintenance solutions. The expansion includes upgraded snow removal capabilities, preventive ice management systems, and 24-hour emergency response services for commercial clients.

"We have invested in additional equipment and trained personnel to meet the growing needs of commercial properties during South Dakota winters," said Johnny Lazear, owner of The Grounds Guys of Rapid City. "The expansion allows us to service more properties while maintaining response times during severe weather events."

The company's winter service expansion comes as commercial property managers face increasing liability concerns related to slip-and-fall incidents. According to the National Safety Council, falls on ice and snow account for thousands of workplace injuries annually, with associated costs exceeding millions in workers' compensation claims.

The enhanced winter services include pre-treatment applications before storm events, continuous monitoring during active weather systems, and post-storm cleanup operations. The company has also implemented GPS tracking on service vehicles to provide real-time updates to property managers.

The company's service area encompasses Rapid City and surrounding communities in western South Dakota. Their client base includes retail centers, office complexes, healthcare facilities, and educational institutions. Many commercial properties in the region rely on professional snow management services, contributing to the company's standing among the Best Rated Services in Rapid City SD.

Beyond winter services, The Grounds Guys of Rapid City maintains a comprehensive portfolio of year-round landscaping solutions. Services include lawn maintenance, landscape design and installation, fertilization and pest control, and tree and shrub care. The company serves both residential and commercial properties throughout the Rapid City area.

The expansion reflects broader industry trends as landscaping companies diversify their seasonal offerings. The National Association of Landscape Professionals reports that winter services now represent a significant revenue stream for landscaping businesses in northern states, with demand increasing annually.

Industry data indicates that professional snow management reduces liability risks by up to 85 percent compared to self-managed programs. This statistic has driven many property managers to seek professional services, particularly those managing properties recognized among the Highest 5 Star Rated Businesses Rapid City SD.

Commercial clients seeking winter service contracts can schedule consultations through the company's standard business channels. The Grounds Guys of Rapid City operates Monday through Friday, with emergency services available during severe weather events.

The company continues to accept new commercial clients for the upcoming winter season, with service agreements customized to individual property requirements.

The Grounds Guys of Rapid City was established as a locally owned and operated business serving the western South Dakota region. The company employs certified technicians and utilizes commercial-grade equipment for all service categories. Their operational approach emphasizes scheduled maintenance programs and responsive service delivery, factors that have earned them Top Customer Reviews Rapid City SD.
