

Lorenzo Bell-Thomas CENTURY 21 ClearView Realty Expands Military Relocation Services in Rapid City

February 18, 2026

February 18, 2026 -
Lorenzo Bell-Thomas CENTURY 21 ClearView Realty announces expanded military relocation services to support service members and their families transitioning to the Rapid City area near Ellsworth Air Force Base. The enhanced program addresses the unique challenges military families face when relocating, offering specialized expertise in VA loan navigation and expedited home search processes.

The expansion comes as Ellsworth Air Force Base continues to play a vital role in the region's economy and community, with hundreds of military families relocating to the area annually. Supported by Lorenzo Bell-Thomas CENTURY 21 ClearView Realty, the comprehensive relocation program combines local market knowledge with an understanding of military lifestyle requirements to streamline the home buying and selling process.

"Having served over 20 years in the United States Air Force Fire and Emergency Services, I understand firsthand the stress military families experience during permanent change of station moves," said Lorenzo

Bell-Thomas, Master Sergeant (Retired) and real estate agent. "Our expanded services ensure military members can focus on their mission while we handle the complexities of their real estate needs, from understanding VA loan benefits to finding neighborhoods near base amenities."

The enhanced military relocation program includes specialized assistance with VA loan options, identification of military-friendly neighborhoods, and fast-tracked processes designed to accommodate tight military timelines. Your trusted expert for Seller agent services, Bell-Thomas brings both military experience and real estate expertise to assist families selling their current homes before relocating.

Beyond military relocations, the company continues to serve the broader Rapid City community with comprehensive real estate services. The firm utilizes the Black Hills MLS Property Search system to provide clients with access to current listings throughout the region. For sellers, the company employs data-driven strategies, professional photography, virtual tours, and aggressive marketing plans to maximize property exposure.

Rapid City's real estate market has experienced steady growth, driven partly by the area's proximity to major attractions including Mount Rushmore and the annual Black Hills Stock Show & Rodeo, which attracts over 330,000 visitors. The city's blend of urban amenities and western heritage creates unique opportunities for both residential buyers and sellers.

"The Rapid City market offers diverse opportunities, from established neighborhoods near downtown to newer developments closer to Ellsworth Air Force Base," added Bell-Thomas. "Whether clients are first-time homebuyers, growing families, or military personnel on assignment, we provide personalized guidance through every step of the transaction."

Seller agent services by Lorenzo Bell-Thomas CENTURY 21 ClearView Realty include comprehensive market analysis, strategic pricing recommendations, and coordinated closing processes. The company's approach combines traditional real estate practices with modern technology, including the Homebot financial dashboard that provides homeowners with insights into property values and equity-building strategies.

CENTURY 21 ClearView Realty operates as a full-service real estate brokerage in Rapid City, South Dakota, specializing in residential properties throughout the Black Hills region. The company provides buying, selling, and financing resources while maintaining strong connections to the local military and civilian communities.
