Appointments Available for New Private Patients at Boxmoor House Dental Practice

January 10, 2026

Dacorum, England - January 10, 2026 -

Boxmoor House Dental Practice has announced the availability of consultation appointments for new private patients interested in All-On-4 dental implants. The update reflects the practice's provision of restorative dental options for individuals who have lost most or all of their teeth in one or both jaws. Appointments have been opened for those wishing to explore whether All-On-4 implants may be suitable for their circumstances.

All-On-4 dental implants are a treatment designed to replace a full arch of missing teeth using four strategically positioned titanium posts. The approach differs from traditional implant methods by using fewer implants to support an entire set of replacement teeth, eliminating the need for an individual implant for each missing tooth. According to the announcement, All-On-4 implants provide a fixed solution that remains permanently in place, unlike removable dentures. The four implants are positioned at specific angles in the jawbone to maximise stability and support, with two placed vertically at the front and two angled towards the back of the jaw.

The practice noted that All-On-4 dental implants can often be completed more quickly than placing multiple individual implants. In many cases, temporary replacement teeth can be attached on the same day as implant placement, allowing patients to leave with a functional set of teeth rather than waiting months for healing. Once the implants have integrated with the jawbone, permanent replacement teeth are fitted to complete the treatment. The technique may be suitable for patients with some degree of bone loss, as the angled positioning of the rear implants often allows treatment to proceed without bone grafting procedures.

Boxmoor House Dental Practice has confirmed that the consultation process begins with a thorough assessment of the patient's dental health and medical history. The dental team examines the mouth and takes X-rays or scans to evaluate bone density and structure. This information determines whether a patient has sufficient bone to support All-On-4 implants or whether additional preparatory work may be needed. Each case is assessed individually, as factors like overall health, oral hygiene habits, and any existing dental conditions all influence treatment planning.

Consultations at Boxmoor House Dental Practice include a discussion about what All-On-4 implants involve and how long the process typically takes. The dental team explains the stages of treatment, from initial implant placement through to fitting the final replacement teeth. Patients receive information about what to expect during recovery and how to care for their implants while healing takes place. The consultation also covers any potential complications and what steps can be taken to minimise risks. The practice has made clear that not everyone is a suitable candidate for All-On-4 dental implants. Conditions such as uncontrolled diabetes, certain medications, or habits like smoking can affect healing and may influence whether implants are recommended.

The practice noted that All-On-4 implants offer several advantages over traditional dentures. The replacement teeth are secured to the implants and don't need to be removed for cleaning, providing stability during eating and speaking. Patients can care for All-On-4 implants much like natural teeth, using regular brushing techniques rather than removing them for cleaning. The fixed nature of the treatment also helps preserve bone structure in the jaw, which can deteriorate over time when teeth are missing.

The announcement comes as part of the practice's broader provision of restorative dental care for patients in Hemel Hempstead and surrounding areas. Boxmoor House Dental Practice offers various treatments for missing teeth including single dental implants, implant-supported bridges, and dentures. The practice also provides general dental care, cosmetic treatments, and preventive appointments. Treatment plans are discussed on an individual basis, with costs outlined clearly during the consultation stage.

According to the release, the availability of All-On-4 dental implants consultations reflects patient demand for permanent solutions to extensive tooth loss. The clinic noted that many people prefer implant-based treatments because they provide function and stability comparable to natural teeth. Consultations allow the dental team to assess each patient's unique circumstances and recommend the most appropriate course of action.

The practice works like a private dental office, taking new patients for both implant procedures and other types of dental care. The dental team works with patients to come up with treatment plans that meet their needs while also taking into account things like budget, time frame, and personal preferences.
