

MaxLiving Chiropractic Naples Celebrates Over 30 Years of Providing Principled Chiropractic Care

January 08, 2026

NAPLES, FL - January 08, 2026 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

MaxLiving Chiropractic Naples has marked more than three decades of service to the community, delivering principled chiropractic care in Naples, FL, focused on holistic well-being and natural healing. Since opening in 1992, the clinic has supported families in achieving better health through advanced spinal corrective techniques and personalized wellness plans that address root causes rather than symptoms.

The milestone reflects the clinic's commitment to empowering patients with knowledge and resources for healthier lifestyles. Doctors Greg and Maryella Loman, with over 60 years of combined clinical experience, have guided the practice in alignment with MaxLiving's philosophy of honoring the body's innate healing abilities. This approach involves comprehensive assessments, including health histories and diagnostic tools like X-rays, to identify interferences and develop tailored interventions.

Chiropractic care at the clinic extends beyond adjustments to include nutritional consultations, testing, and massage therapy. These services work together to remove barriers to health and promote overall vitality. The practice emphasizes education, helping individuals understand the sources of true healing and make informed choices for themselves and their families.

Dr. Maryella Loman, chiropractor at MaxLiving Chiropractic Naples, noted the importance of this long-term dedication. "Over the past 30 years, we have witnessed how principled chiropractic care transforms lives by addressing the underlying issues that affect well-being," said Dr. Loman. "Our focus remains on empowering families to live free from interference, allowing the body's natural wisdom to guide healing."

The clinic's process begins with listening to each patient's concerns, goals, and limitations. Data collection follows to pinpoint root causes, leading to targeted support and ongoing care. This methodical strategy has built a community of individuals sharing values centered on natural health principles.

In addition to spinal corrective care, the nutritional aspect helps patients optimize their diets for better outcomes. Testing identifies specific needs, while massage therapy complements adjustments by easing tension and improving mobility. Together, these elements form a holistic framework that supports the body's self-regulating mechanisms.

MaxLiving Chiropractic Naples operates within the broader MaxLiving network, which promotes the 5 Essentials for wellness. These principles guide practices across locations, ensuring consistent, evidence-based care. The Naples clinic embodies this by fostering an environment where education and empowerment take precedence.

As health trends evolve, the clinic continues to adapt its methods while staying true to foundational chiropractic principles. Families in Naples benefit from this stability, accessing care that prioritizes long-term health over temporary relief. The over-30-year tenure underscores the effectiveness of this model in a changing healthcare landscape.

Dr. Maryella Loman elaborated on the clinic's role in community health. "Chiropractic care is about more than adjustments; it's a pathway to unlocking maximum health potential through natural means," said Dr. Loman. "We have seen generations of families thrive by embracing these principles, and we remain committed to this mission."

The practice's history dates back to 1992, when it began serving the local area with a vision of holistic care. Over the years, it has expanded its offerings to meet diverse needs, from young children to seniors. This inclusivity has made it a trusted resource for wellness in Naples.

Patients receive personalized plans that evolve with their progress, ensuring sustained improvements. The emphasis on community building encourages shared experiences and support among those pursuing similar health goals.

MaxLiving Chiropractic Naples stands as a testament to the enduring value of principled chiropractic approaches. Its longevity highlights the demand for natural, root-cause-focused care in today's health-conscious society.

The clinic's integration of services like nutrition and massage with core chiropractic techniques provides a comprehensive solution. This multifaceted strategy addresses physical, nutritional, and lifestyle factors for optimal results.

Looking ahead, MaxLiving Chiropractic Naples plans to continue its tradition of education and care. Workshops and resources help demystify health concepts, enabling better decision-making.

The over-60 years of collective experience from Doctors Greg and Maryella Loman bring depth to every consultation. Their expertise ensures that care is both innovative and grounded in proven methods.

MaxLiving, the parent network, supports clinics like the one in Naples by providing frameworks for excellence in chiropractic practice. Founded on principles of natural healing, MaxLiving aims to inspire global health transformations through its affiliated locations.

MaxLiving Chiropractic Naples specializes in advanced spinal corrective care and holistic wellness services. As part of the MaxLiving network, it adheres to high standards of principled chiropractic, focusing on family health and natural solutions.
