Piedmont Paint & Finish Expands Commercial Painting Services to Meet Growing Market Demand

January 23, 2026

Charlottesville, VA - January 23, 2026 -
Piedmont Paint & Finish, a Charlottesville-based painting contractor established in 2007, announces expanded commercial painting capabilities to serve the growing needs of Central Virginia's recovering commercial real estate sector. The company brings nearly two decades of expertise to retail properties, medical facilities, institutional buildings, and office spaces throughout the region, from Ivy and Crozet to Richmond.

The expansion comes as Charlottesville's commercial real estate market demonstrates steady transaction activity and a notable flight-to-quality trend favoring renovated and high-performing properties. Property owners and managers increasingly seek professional painting services that can deliver premium finishes while minimizing disruption to occupied spaces.

"The commercial real estate recovery in Central Virginia has created significant demand for professional painting services that can transform properties efficiently and effectively," said Charles Davis, Project Director at Piedmont Paint & Finish. "Our EPA RRP-certified team specializes in completing complex projects on time and under budget, whether working in occupied medical facilities or historic institutional buildings."

The company's commercial division handles both interior and exterior projects, utilizing premium paint products from leading manufacturers. Their approach emphasizes minimal disruption to business operations, allowing retail stores, medical practices, and offices to maintain normal activities during renovation periods.

The commercial painters at Piedmont Paint & Finish bring specialized expertise in lead-safe practices, particularly valuable for the region's historic properties. The company's portfolio includes prestigious projects such as the 2019 University of Virginia Rotunda renovation, where the team performed stripping, repainting, and lead remediation on world-heritage designated structures, including Carr's Hill.

Beyond technical capabilities, the company offers strategic color consultation services designed to enhance curb appeal and support tenant retention strategies. These consultations help property owners select finishes that align with current market preferences while maintaining the character of their buildings.

Central Virginia's commercial property landscape continues evolving as businesses adapt to post-pandemic operational models. The revitalization occurring across retail, office, and institutional spaces requires painting contractors capable of meeting diverse technical requirements while adhering to strict timelines and budgets.

Piedmont Paint & Finish maintains comprehensive licensing and insurance coverage appropriate for commercial projects of all scales. The company's team undergoes continuous training in the latest application techniques and safety protocols, ensuring consistent quality across all project types.

The company also operates Pigment Paint Supply, a local paint store offering products from brands including Mythic, Ferrell Calhoun, and locally-made Good Bones Paint. This direct access to materials enables better project planning and cost management for commercial clients.

Since 2007, Piedmont Paint & Finish has built a reputation for professionalism, punctuality, and transparency in project execution. The company serves residential and commercial clients throughout Central Virginia, offering painting, power washing, and cabinet refinishing services. Their commercial painting division focuses on delivering high-quality finishes that support property values and business objectives across the region's diverse commercial real estate portfolio.
