March 24, 2016 -
Memphis, TN based company WeeSprout has announced the launch of new sizes for their reusable food pouch. The company currently offers the food pouch on the Amazon marketplace. Brandon Wells, one of the founders of the company states, "We are pleased to now offer three new sizes in our food pouches. Our 3.4 ounce, 5 ounce, and 7 ounce pouches are now available."

The food pouches, which can be seen at http://www.amazon.com/Reusable-Food-Pouch-Pack-Homemade/dp/B00TXBSHBQ, provide extra wide zippered openings for convenience, and have been featured on various network television shows and in magazines including Travel Weekly, Digital Journal, and a number of local news stations.

Originally offered in just one size, the pouch is now available in sizes that the company states are perfect for children of all ages. The reusable pouches are dishwasher safe and constructed of eco-friendly materials with a dual zipper closure to protect against leakage. They are BPA, PVC, lead and phthalate free.

"Our goal was initially to give parents a safe and effective way for children to eat, particularly on the run, and that's what our reusable pouch is designed for," Wells says. He states that the pouch was created as a means of helping parents to avoid messes in cars and on trips, and that the new sizes will come in handy for longer trips and for older children.

More about the pouches can be seen on the company's official website at http://www.weesprout.com/products/reusable-baby-food-pouches, where a list of pouch sizes as well as other products are available.

WeeSprout backs all purchases of their reusable food pouch with a one year guarantee. The company is a small family owned business that was founded as a means of finding healthier ways of feeding their own children. The founders had observed that they were wasting foods from squeeze pouches sold in stores, and wanted to provide their children with healthier alternatives of those packaged treats. The food pouches have been popular since their initial release, and WeeSprout states that they hope parents will find the new sizes to be even more convenient. More about the company can be seen on their Facebook page.
