January 16, 2026 -

In the face of significant legal challenges and scrutiny of armed robbery allegations, David E. Stanley, APLC, a Baton Rouge criminal defense law firm with extensive experience handling armed robbery cases, provides legal representation tailored to the complexities of armed robbery cases facing these serious charges. The Baton Rouge attorney offers more than four decades of criminal defense experience and emphasizes a defense-focused and client-centered approach.

Under Louisiana law, armed robbery is the taking of anything of value belonging to another from the person of another, or from that person?s immediate control, by use of force or intimidation while the offender is armed with a dangerous weapon. The offense carries severe penalties, including a mandatory prison term of ten to ninety-nine years at hard labor, without benefit of parole, probation, or suspension of sentence, and when a firearm is used during the crime, the law authorizes the court to impose an additional consecutive term of five years at hard labor without benefits when the statutory requirements for a firearm enhancement are established. In a criminal justice climate marked by heightened public safety concerns and strict sentencing for violent offenses, individuals accused of armed robbery need experienced legal counsel who can navigate complex statutes and help protect their constitutional rights throughout the process.

David E. Stanley, APLC, with over 40 years of legal practice focused primarily on criminal defense, leads the firm in employing a detailed, case-specific approach to armed robbery defense. The firm?s strategy prioritizes comprehensive case assessment, early and ongoing client communication, and a thorough investigation of the evidence. This approach is especially important in armed robbery prosecutions, where questions about the legality of searches, the credibility of witnesses, and the precise interpretation of criminal statutes frequently arise.

As a Baton Rouge criminal defense attorney, David E. Stanley understands the gravity of armed robbery allegations and the severe consequences a conviction can carry. Beyond disputing prosecution claims, David E. Stanley, APLC, evaluates available legal options, which may include seeking charge reductions or negotiating plea agreements when supported by the facts of the case and permitted by the prosecutor and court when appropriate. The firm?s focus on tailoring defenses to each client?s circumstances is a central part of its practice in the Baton Rouge legal community.

Armed robbery cases often involve complex issues, including the use of surveillance technology, forensic evidence, and varied jury attitudes. Amid these challenges, David E. Stanley, APLC, stays current on legal precedents and adapts its defense tactics accordingly. Our objective is to advocate for each client and work to protect their rights within the criminal justice process.

Clients facing armed robbery accusations frequently suffer substantial emotional and practical consequences. Understanding these stakes, the firm prioritizes transparency and education to help clients know their legal rights, evaluate their case options, and consider possible outcomes. This client-centered philosophy is central to the firm?s mission to provide not only legal defense but also support throughout the judicial process.

As Baton Rouge and Louisiana evolve their responses to violent crimes, the role of an attorney who handles armed robbery and other criminal defense matters (not certified as a specialist by the Louisiana Board of Legal Specialization) grows ever more crucial. David E. Stanley, APLC?s commitment to case preparation, case management, and ethical advocacy, supports its role as an option for individuals seeking representation in serious criminal matters.

In addition to drug-related cases, David E. Stanley, APLC, represents clients facing charges involving violent crimes, vehicular homicide, child molestation, child pornography, federal offenses, firearms and weapons, prostitution, public corruption, and white-collar crimes. The firm also handles criminal appeals.

"Every case deserves individual attention," David E. Stanley stated. "We've encountered cases involving mistaken identity, missing or unconfirmed evidence, and intricacies in witness testimony that required a customized defense. Our objective is to advocate for each client and work to safeguard their rights in an increasingly complex legal context.?
