GrinderCrusherScreen Gears Up for COMPOST 2026 in Sacramento

January 15, 2026

SMYRNA, GA - January 15, 2026 -
GrinderCrusherScreen, a leader in recycling and composting equipment solutions, is excited to announce that the company will be exhibiting at COMPOST 2026: The US Composting Council (USCC) Conference & Tradeshow, taking place January 27?30, 2026, in Sacramento, California.

Visitors are invited to stop by Booth #930 to meet the GrinderCrusherScreen team, explore innovative recycling and composting solutions, and learn about the company?s FREE No Hassle Listing Service designed to make selling used equipment simple, efficient, and stress-free.

Hosted by the U.S. Composting Council, COMPOST 2026 is recognized as the premiere event for composting and organics professionals across North America. Each year, the conference brings together hundreds of exhibitors, thought leaders, and sustainability advocates committed to advancing composting and circular economy initiatives.

This year?s show promises three days of networking, education, and collaboration with industry experts, including inspiring keynote presentations from workplace culture strategist Chris Dyer, practical workshops, and a bustling tradeshow floor featuring the latest innovations in composting, mulching, screening, and waste recovery technology.

?Events like COMPOST 2026 truly capture what this industry is all about innovation and collaboration? said Rick Cohen, CEO of GrinderCrusherScreen. ?For more than 50 years we?ve helped companies process materials responsibly and efficiently.?

GrinderCrusherScreen will have a dedicated team of experts on site to share knowledge, answer questions, and help attendees find the right equipment for their recycling and composting operations.

Rick Cohen, CEO ? With decades of leadership in recycling and environmental equipment, Rick has grown GrinderCrusherScreen into a trusted resource for operators across North America.

Maria Staelens, Parts Department ? Maria?s deep parts and equipment knowledge ensures customers get the components they need fast, helping minimize downtime and keep machines running smoothly.

Mark Morris, West Coast Sales Representative ? Based in Oregon, Mark partners with West Coast clients to deliver equipment and service solutions tailored to local composting and recycling needs.

Together, the team looks forward to meeting attendees face-to-face and discussing how GrinderCrusherScreen?s equipment and services can help optimize their operations.

For years, GrinderCrusherScreen has specialized in new and used machinery for composting, recycling, and material processing. The company is known for its exceptional customer support, competitive pricing, and deep inventory of grinders, crushers, shredders, screens, conveyors, and wear parts.

However, what truly sets GrinderCrusherScreen apart is its ?No Hassle? Done-For-You Listing Service. Available at no cost, this program helps customers sell used machinery quickly and profitably by letting GrinderCrusherScreen handle every aspect from listing and marketing to brokering the sale. It?s an effortless way for operators to move old equipment while focusing on their business.

?Our goal is to make it easy for operators to buy, sell, and maintain the equipment they rely on,? said Cohen. ?We handle the details so our customers can focus on what they do best running successful, sustainable operations.?

Whether attendees are looking for new or used machinery, need parts and service support, or just want to learn more about GrinderCrusherScreen?s unique equipment programs, the team welcomes visitors to Booth #930 throughout the event.

COMPOST 2026 offers countless opportunities to connect, learn, and discover new ideas shaping the composting and recycling industries. GrinderCrusherScreen is proud to be part of the movement driving innovation and sustainability forward.
