

A&J Painting Inc. Launches Website Highlighting 26 Years of Service

January 22, 2026

BERKELEY, CA - January 22, 2026 -

A&J Painting Inc., a family-owned painting contractor serving the East Bay since 1999, announced today the launch of its redesigned website at aandjpaintinginc.com. The new site provides homeowners with detailed information about the company's residential and commercial painting services, warranty programs, and service process. The website reflects the company's commitment to transparency and communication with customers throughout every project.

The redesigned website features comprehensive information about A&J Painting Inc.'s full range of services, including interior and exterior painting, cabinet refinishing, deck staining, drywall repair, and power washing. Each service page explains the company's approach to surface preparation, product selection, and project execution. The site also highlights the paint products used on projects, including lines from Sherwin-Williams, Benjamin Moore, and Dunn-Edwards.

A central focus of the new website is the company's warranty program. A&J Painting Inc. offers a five-year warranty on complete exterior painting projects and a three-year warranty on interior work. The warranty covers peeling, fading, and bubbling, with free repairs provided during the coverage period. This warranty structure represents one of the more comprehensive coverage options available from painting contractors in the region.

"After 26 years of building relationships through word of mouth and referrals, we wanted a website that accurately represents how we approach every project," said Alan Joyce, Owner of A&J Painting Inc. "Our site now shows customers what to expect when they work with us, from the initial color consultation through final inspection. We believe in communication from start to finish, and this website is an extension of that philosophy."

The website includes detailed information about the company's qualifications and credentials. A&J Painting Inc. holds a C-33 painting contractor license, number 759175, issued by the Contractors State License Board. The company has maintained EPA Lead-Safe Certification since 2002, qualifying the team to work safely on homes built before 1978 that may contain lead-based paint. The company is fully licensed, bonded, and insured.

Alan Joyce founded A&J Painting Inc. in 1999 after passing the C-33 contractor license examination. Joyce began working in the painting industry in 1988 with a production painting company before transitioning to custom home painting work from 1995 to 1999. This background in both production efficiency and custom craftsmanship informs the company's current approach to residential and commercial projects.

The six-person team at A&J Painting Inc. operates with hands-on leadership from Joyce, who maintains a presence on job sites throughout each project. This direct involvement allows for quality oversight and enables real-time communication with homeowners about project progress. The company handles projects ranging from single rooms to complete interior and exterior renovations.

"We acknowledge that we are not the most economical painting company in the industry," Joyce stated. "However, we will not sacrifice attention to detail or cut corners in the painting process. Our warranty reflects our confidence in the work we deliver. When customers choose us, they are choosing quality craftsmanship backed by decades of experience."

The new website serves customers throughout Berkeley and the surrounding East Bay communities, including Albany, El Cerrito, Piedmont, and Emeryville. Homeowners can request estimates through the website's contact form or by calling the company directly. A&J Painting Inc. provides color consultation services to help customers select appropriate products and finishes for their specific projects.
