Invisalign Clear Aligners Wilmslow Dentist Announces Appointment Availability at The Croft Dental & Implant Practice

January 23, 2026

January 23, 2026 -
The Croft Dental & Implant Practice has announced the availability of consultation appointments for private patients interested in Invisalign clear aligner treatments. The update reflects the practice's provision of orthodontic options for individuals seeking to address misaligned teeth or bite problems. Appointments have been opened for those wishing to explore whether Invisalign may be suitable for their needs.

Invisalign clear aligners are a type of orthodontic treatment that uses a series of transparent, removable trays to gradually move teeth into a desired position. Each aligner is custom-made to fit the patient's teeth and is worn for a specified period before being replaced with the next aligner in the series. The system works by applying gentle, controlled pressure to the teeth, shifting them incrementally over time. According to the announcement, Invisalign can address a variety of alignment concerns including crowding, spacing issues, and certain bite irregularities.

The practice noted that Invisalign aligners differ from traditional braces in several ways. The trays are removable, allowing patients to take them out for eating, drinking, and cleaning their teeth. This feature means there are no dietary restrictions associated with the treatment, though aligners must be worn for the recommended number of hours each day to achieve the intended results. The clear material used in the aligners makes them less noticeable than metal brackets and wires, which appeals to patients who prefer a more discreet approach to teeth straightening.

The Croft Dental & Implant Practice has confirmed that the treatment process begins with a thorough assessment during the initial consultation. The dental team examines the patient's teeth and jaw alignment to determine whether Invisalign is appropriate for their particular case.

Not all alignment issues can be addressed with clear aligners, and some patients may require alternative orthodontic approaches. Each case is evaluated individually based on the severity of misalignment and the patient's overall dental health. Consultations at The Croft Dental & Implant Practice include a discussion about what the patient hopes to achieve through treatment. The dental team takes digital scans or impressions of the teeth, which are used to create a treatment plan showing how the teeth are expected to move throughout the process. Patients have the opportunity to ask questions about the duration of treatment, the number of aligners they may need, and any other aspects of the procedure. The consultation also covers practical considerations such as how often aligners need to be changed and what to expect during regular check-up appointments.

The practice has indicated that treatment duration varies depending on the complexity of each case. Some patients may complete their treatment in several months, while others may require a longer timeframe. The dental team provides an estimated treatment timeline during the consultation based on the initial assessment. Regular monitoring appointments are scheduled throughout the treatment period to track progress and ensure that teeth are moving as planned.

The announcement is part of the practice's larger effort to provide orthodontic care to people in Wilmslow and the surrounding areas. In addition to Invisalign, the Croft Dental & Implant Practice offers a number of other orthodontic options for straightening teeth, such as fixed braces, Cfast, and Quick Straight Teeth treatments. The practice also offers general dentistry, cosmetic dentistry, and dental implant surgery. During the consultation stage, costs are made clear and treatment plans are discussed on a case-by-case basis.

The practice has confirmed that suitability for Invisalign is determined through careful assessment. Factors such as the type and extent of misalignment, the patient's age, and their ability to comply with wearing requirements all influence whether the treatment is appropriate. For patients who may not be suitable candidates for clear aligners, the dental team can discuss alternative orthodontic options during the consultation.

The practice operates privately, accepting patients for both orthodontic treatments and other dental care options. The dental team works with patients to develop treatment plans that address their needs while considering factors such as budget, timeline, and personal preferences.
