WeeSprout, a business in Memphis, TN, is proud to announce the launch of their new product. The 100% organic cotton muslin swaddle blanket has been designed to increase the comfort and safety of new babies and is already proving to be very popular. It is available on Amazon through http://www.amazon.com/Organic-Cotton-Swaddle-Blankets-WeeSprout/dp/B018T9UBFC.

Brandon Wells from WeeSprout says: "Swaddling is a technique that many parents and midwives have found to be very beneficial in comforting newborn babies. Pediatricians feel that this is due to the fact that it mimics the feeling of being in the womb, which has been the only home a baby has known for the past nine months. We are proud to have launched our new product, which is 100% organic, which means new mothers can know that their babies are not just comfortable, but completely safe as well."

The swaddles, which come in a pack of two, have two different designs. One features an image of a duck, and the other features a frog. While designed for swaddling, they are highly multifunctional. They can also be used, for instance, to cover a baby's pram to protect it from sun glare. Alternatively, mothers can use it for cover while breastfeeding should they wish to have more privacy.

As can be seen on the company's website on http://www.weesprout.com/products/organic-cotton-muslin-swaddle-blankets, the company prides itself in designing products that are functional, safe and comfortable at the same time. They focus strongly on sustainability, offering organic and reusable products to parents. They want to make sure that babies and toddlers are safe, and that the environment is protected at the same time.

Those who have purchased the muslin blankets and other products have been very happy with their products. Customers frequently indicate that they are so happy with the comfortable feel of the material, and that the fact that it is 100% organic is also very beneficial. At the same time, they highlight the excellent customer service that they have received.
