The expansion encompasses integrated LED systems featuring warm, layered, and color-changing options designed to enhance both ambiance and security for properties. The company now offers comprehensive lighting solutions utilizing professional-grade fixtures from leading manufacturers, including VOLT Lighting, Kichler, and Hampton Bay, with brass fixtures for pathways and architectural spotlights among the most requested options.

"The landscape lighting industry has evolved significantly with the introduction of smart technology and energy-efficient LED systems," said Rocky DeVotie, President of White Oak Landscape. "Our expanded capabilities allow us to provide clients with app-controlled systems that can be adjusted remotely for different occasions, seasons, or security needs while reducing energy consumption by up to 80 percent compared to traditional lighting."

White Oak Landscape lighting services now include design consultation, professional installation, and ongoing maintenance for both residential and commercial properties. The company specializes in creating layered lighting designs that combine path lighting, accent lighting, and architectural highlighting to create depth and visual interest throughout outdoor spaces.

Current trends driving demand for professional landscape lighting include the integration of smart home technology, increased focus on outdoor living spaces, and growing awareness of lighting's role in property security. Professional installation typically ranges from $2,000 to $4,500 for residential properties, depending on the scope and complexity of the design.

"We're seeing tremendous interest in color-changing LED options that allow property owners to customize their lighting for holidays, special events, or simply to match their mood," added DeVotie. "The durability of modern brass fixtures combined with smart technology creates lighting systems that are both beautiful and practical for long-term use."

The expansion comes as industry data shows increased investment in outdoor lighting, with homeowners recognizing the value of professional installation for both aesthetic appeal and property value enhancement. White Oak lighting home landscapes with strategic placement of fixtures to highlight architectural features, illuminate walkways for safety, and create inviting outdoor environments for evening entertainment.

The company's enhanced lighting services address common challenges, including proper fixture placement for optimal illumination without glare, selecting appropriate color temperatures for different applications, and ensuring systems comply with local dark sky ordinances where applicable.
