LONDON, UK - February 23, 2026 -
Near Me Plumbers Limited has expanded its emergency plumbing response coverage to better serve residential and commercial properties throughout Kennington, London. The expansion addresses growing demand for rapid-response plumbing services in the area, with the company now guaranteeing one-hour emergency response times for urgent plumbing situations.

The enhanced service coverage comes as Kennington experiences increased residential development and property renovations, creating greater need for reliable emergency plumbing support. The company's expanded operations include 24-hour availability for emergency call-outs, comprehensive drainage services, boiler installations, and general plumbing maintenance throughout the SE11 postcode area.

"Kennington residents deserve access to professional plumbing services that respond quickly when emergencies strike," said Arthur Sokoli, Operations Director at Near Me Plumbers Limited. "Our expansion ensures that whether dealing with a burst pipe at midnight or a boiler failure during winter, local property owners can access qualified engineers within an hour of their call."

The company's Kennington service expansion encompasses a comprehensive range of plumbing and heating solutions. These include landlord safety certificates, electrical work, gas system maintenance, bathroom installations, and central heating services. Each service comes with extended guarantees, with some installations covered for up to 25 years.

Near Me Plumbers - Plumber Kennington services have been structured to address both emergency situations and planned maintenance requirements. The company employs Gas Safe registered engineers and qualified electricians who undergo continuous professional development to maintain current industry certifications and safety standards.

The expansion reflects broader trends in London's plumbing industry, where rapid urbanization and aging infrastructure create consistent demand for professional plumbing services. Recent industry data indicates that properties without regular plumbing maintenance face significantly higher risks of emergency failures, particularly in older buildings common throughout Kennington.

For commercial properties and landlords in Kennington, the expanded service includes specialized support for regulatory compliance. This encompasses annual gas safety certificates, electrical installation condition reports, and emergency lighting tests required under current UK legislation.

The company has invested in advanced diagnostic equipment to support its Kennington operations, including CCTV drain survey technology and electronic leak detection systems. These tools enable engineers to identify and resolve issues more efficiently, reducing both repair times and property disruption.

Near Me Plumbers Limited maintains two operational bases in London, with locations in Putney and Greenwich supporting its service network across the capital. The company has earned a 5.0 rating based on more than 222 Google reviews, reflecting consistent service delivery across its coverage areas.

The Kennington service expansion represents part of Near Me Plumbers Limited's strategic growth across London. The company specializes in providing comprehensive plumbing, heating, and electrical services to residential and commercial properties, with particular expertise in emergency response and complex installation projects.
