

Waggoners Home Services Updates Service Availability for Residential Systems

January 26, 2026

NORMAN, OK - January 26, 2026 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Waggoners Home Services has updated the availability of its residential service offerings to include HVAC, plumbing, and electrical services for homeowners in Oklahoma City. The update reflects a change in geographic service coverage, with Oklahoma City now included among the areas where the company provides household system support through its existing operations.

The adjustment applies to the company's core service categories, which include heating and cooling systems, plumbing systems, and residential electrical infrastructure. These services are now available to residents within Oklahoma City under the same general scheduling and service procedures used in other covered areas. No changes to service scope or service categories have been announced in connection with the update.

According to the company, the change represents an operational update rather than a shift in business structure or direction. Oklahoma City has been added to the list of areas where residential service requests may be accepted and scheduled using established internal systems.

?This update reflects a change in where services are available,? said Neal Zamore. ?Oklahoma City is now included among the areas where residential HVAC, plumbing, and electrical service requests can be scheduled.?

The inclusion of Oklahoma City was implemented without a public rollout or marketing campaign. Instead, the update was incorporated through routine adjustments to service area records and internal scheduling references. Information reflecting the change has been added to the company?s general service descriptions, indicating that Oklahoma City is now within the current coverage area.

Waggoners Home Services continues to offer the same residential services it has previously provided. The update does not introduce new service types, pricing structures, or service processes. HVAC, plumbing, and electrical work performed in Oklahoma City follows the same general guidelines and procedures used in other service areas.

The service area update does not involve changes to company ownership, leadership, or organizational structure. Existing operations remain in place, and no additional statements have been issued regarding staffing, facilities, or internal expansion. The update is limited to geographic coverage only.

Homeowners searching for hvac, plumbing, and electrical services in Oklahoma City, OK may now find Waggoners Home Services listed as a provider operating in the area. The inclusion of the city ensures that service requests originating from Oklahoma City can be routed through the company?s standard intake and scheduling processes.

No projections have been released regarding service volume, response times, or operational impact related to the update. The company has not provided commentary on future service area changes or additional geographic adjustments. At this time, the update applies only to the addition of Oklahoma City to the service area.

The change does not affect existing service areas. Residents in previously covered locations will continue to access services without interruption, and all current scheduling procedures remain in place. Internal systems have been updated to reflect the revised coverage map, ensuring location-based requests are handled appropriately.

The inclusion of Oklahoma City has been reflected in the company?s current service information. Residents reviewing service availability details will now see the city listed among the areas where HVAC, plumbing, and electrical services are available under existing procedures.

Service requests in Oklahoma City are handled in the same manner as those from other areas. Appointment availability is subject to standard scheduling practices, and all work is performed within the scope of the company's established residential service offerings.

With this update, Waggoners Home Services has adjusted its geographic reach to include Oklahoma City. The change expands where services are available while maintaining the same operational framework and service categories currently in place.

###

For more information about Waggoners Home Services, contact the company here: Waggoners Home Services
Neal Zamore 14058296822 neal.zamore@storrgroup.com 1351 E Indian Hills Rd Norman, OK 73071

Waggoners Home Services

Waggoners Home Services is a trusted HVAC contractor based in Norman, OK, providing expert heating and cooling solutions since 1946.

Website: <https://www.waggonershomeservices.com>

Email: neal.zamore@storrgroup.com

Phone: 14058296822

Powered by PressAdvantage.com