

Miracle Gro AeroGarden Indoor Garden Review Released

March 31, 2016

March 31, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Palmate Home and Garden is proud to announce a new product review on their website. In the review, they discuss the Miracle Gro AeroGarden and its benefits for garden lovers. Palmate is a popular resource for in-depth garden and home product reviews, and their latest review, which is now available online, is already gathering a lot of interest.

Pete Bowes from Palmate Gardening says: "When we first heard about the Miracle-Gro AeroGarden, we knew we had to get our hands on one for review. This is the type of product that is right up our street, and one that many of our readers are interested in as well. Having completed the review, we are happy to say that it is truly a fantastic product."

The Aerogarden is best described as an indoor garden that does not require any soil. According to the product developer, it enables people to grow their plants up to five times faster than they would in regular soil. It can be used for any type of plant, including herbs, flowers, salad greens, vegetables and so on. It is a great opportunity, as well, for people who do not have a lot of experience with growing their own to get started.

The Miracle Gro Aerogarden uses full spectrum, high performance LED growth lights. It has a user friendly control panel, so that the growing conditions are always optimal. The grow lights switch on and off automatically, and the system regulates nutrient and water delivery.

Others who have tried the product have been as impressed as Palmate Home and Garden's staff have been. "I have the Led 7 gardens and ALL the seed pods sprouted," says Fawn on the AeroGarden website. "The basil in 2 days, 2 days more and the other basil, cilantro and dill sprouted, two more days and the chives and parsley. The slowest is the mint, but I saw green in a week. I love this - in northern NY we don't get to see any green plants growing outdoors until May. I have a 5 foot snow bank in front of the house on April 8th, but inside, it is spring, I am going to buy another and get plants started for my garden!"
