Post Electric Expands Residential and Industrial Services Throughout Southwest Missouri

March 05, 2026

Monett, MO - March 05, 2026 -
Post Electric, a professional electrical contractor serving Southwest Missouri, today announced the expansion of its comprehensive electrical services to better serve growing demand across residential, commercial, and industrial sectors throughout the region, including Aurora and surrounding communities.

The Southwest Missouri-based company has enhanced its service capabilities and coverage area to address increasing requests for professional electrical installations, repairs, and maintenance services. The expansion enables the family-owned electrical contractor to provide faster response times and broader service availability across Pierce City, Verona, Aurora, Cassville, Springfield, Mount Vernon, Ozark, and Monett.

Post Electric Residential services encompass a comprehensive range of solutions for homeowners, from basic electrical repairs and lighting installations to complete home rewiring projects and electrical system upgrades. The company's residential division handles everything from troubleshooting electrical issues to installing modern smart home systems, always adhering to local building codes and safety regulations.

"The demand for reliable electrical services has grown significantly across Southwest Missouri, and we recognized the need to expand our capabilities to better serve our communities," said Ryan, owner of Post Electric. "Our team of licensed electricians brings over 15 years of experience to every project, whether it involves complex industrial machinery wiring or simple residential repairs."

Commercial clients benefit from the company's expertise in new construction wiring, lighting system design and installation, electrical panel upgrades, and emergency repair services. The expansion allows Post Electric to take on larger commercial projects while maintaining the personalized service that has defined the company since its founding.

The expansion also strengthens the company's industrial capabilities. Post Electric Industrial specializes in large-scale installations, machinery wiring, system upgrades, and routine maintenance for manufacturing facilities and industrial operations throughout the region. The company's industrial electricians are trained to work with complex electrical systems that power production lines, heavy machinery, and specialized industrial equipment.

As part of the expansion initiative, Post Electric has invested in advanced diagnostic equipment and ongoing training for its team of licensed electricians. The company maintains comprehensive insurance coverage and offers a one-year workmanship warranty on all installations. Emergency electrical services remain available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, ensuring critical electrical issues can be addressed promptly.

The company's commitment to safety and quality workmanship has established Post Electric as a trusted electrical contractor throughout Southwest Missouri. All work performed meets or exceeds National Electrical Code standards and local regulatory requirements.

Post Electric is a fully licensed and insured electrical contractor serving Southwest Missouri for over 15 years. The family-owned and operated business provides residential, commercial, and industrial electrical services, specializing in installations, repairs, upgrades, and maintenance. The company employs a team of experienced, licensed electricians committed to delivering safe, efficient, and reliable electrical solutions using high-quality materials and the latest industry techniques.
