

Quality Pro Painting Expands Lime Washing Services to Meet Growing Demand for Natural Finishes

March 10, 2026

March 10, 2026 -
Quality Pro Painting, a Northwest Arkansas painting contractor established in 2017, has expanded its specialized lime washing services throughout the region in response to increased homeowner interest in natural, breathable finishes for both interior and exterior surfaces.

The Springdale-based company has seen a significant uptick in requests for lime wash applications, a traditional technique that provides both aesthetic appeal and practical benefits for brick and masonry surfaces. The expansion comes as more property owners seek environmentally conscious alternatives to conventional paint products.

Lime washing creates a natural, breathable finish that allows brick and masonry to release moisture naturally, preventing the peeling and long-term damage often associated with standard paint applications. The technique, which dates back centuries, has experienced renewed popularity as homeowners discover its durability and distinctive aesthetic qualities.

"The demand for Quality Pro Painting lime washing services has grown substantially as homeowners become more aware of the benefits this traditional technique offers," said Obed Posadas, owner of Quality Pro Painting. "Beyond the beautiful, aged patina it creates, lime wash actually protects masonry surfaces by allowing them to breathe, which extends the life of the structure while reducing maintenance needs over time."

The company's lime washing services complement its comprehensive range of specialized finishes, including Venetian glaze, Venetian plaster, and mineral paint applications. Each technique requires specific expertise and application methods that the company has refined since beginning operations in 2017.

Quality Pro Painting interior painting services have also incorporated lime washing techniques for clients seeking to create unique, textured walls with depth and character. The natural composition of lime wash makes it particularly suitable for interior applications where air quality and environmental considerations are paramount.

The expansion of lime washing services addresses a gap in the Northwest Arkansas market, where few contractors possess the specialized knowledge required for proper application. The technique demands understanding of surface preparation, mixing ratios, and application methods that differ significantly from standard painting procedures.

"We've invested considerable time in mastering these traditional techniques while adapting them to modern construction methods," Posadas explained. "Each project requires careful assessment of the substrate and environmental conditions to ensure optimal results that will last for years."

The company serves residential and commercial clients throughout Northwest Arkansas, including Bentonville, Springdale, Fayetteville, Bella Vista, and Rogers. Licensed and insured, Quality Pro Painting has built its reputation on attention to detail, upfront pricing, and expertise in both traditional and contemporary finishing techniques.

Beyond lime washing and specialty finishes, the company provides comprehensive painting services including exterior painting, deck and fence staining, and commercial painting projects. With over 15 years of combined experience in the painting industry, the team brings professional expertise to each project regardless of scope or complexity.

Quality Pro Painting continues to expand its service offerings while maintaining its commitment to customer satisfaction and craftsmanship. The company's focus on specialized techniques like lime washing demonstrates its dedication to preserving traditional methods while meeting contemporary design preferences.
