

DWB LAW, LLC Expands Advocacy for Public Servants and Long-Term Workers

February 06, 2026

MIAMI, FL - February 06, 2026 -

DWB LAW, LLC is expanding its complimentary consultation services to better support public servants?including police officers, firefighters, nurses, military veterans, and others in physically demanding careers.

The firm?s office at 11900 Biscayne Blvd., Suite 280, Miami, FL 33181, provides complimentary consultations and end-to-end handling of initial Social Security disability applications. These assessments focus on professionals with 30+ years of work experience, whose extensive work histories can support credibility assessments during Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) and Supplemental Security Income (SSI) evaluations.

?Law enforcement officers endure physically demanding patrols, pursuits, and interventions that result in accumulated strain over time,? said David W. Batchelder, Jr., Esq., Managing Partner at DWB LAW, LLC. ?During rescue operations, firefighters face extreme heat, toxic smoke, and heavy equipment?factors that can cause long-term joint and lung problems.?

Nurses routinely perform continual lifting, tolerate extended periods of standing, and manage high-pressure situations. Public servants and military personnel likewise encounter hardships from municipal responsibilities or deployments that can lead to chronic impairments over lengthy careers. Batchelder noted that the firm offers free consultations to support this sector.

?These dedicated professionals have given decades of service to their communities, often at great physical cost,? Batchelder said. ?When medical issues arise, the last thing people need is to wrestle with bureaucratic red tape?DWB LAW, LLC takes that burden off their shoulders and battles the bureaucracy for them.?

DWB LAW, LLC focuses on Social Security Disability matters and assumes responsibility for the entire claims process. When disabilities prevent a return to work or Substantial Gainful Activity (SGA), the medical-vocational ?grid? rules and special profiles (e.g., long-term arduous work) may influence how claims are evaluated. Physician statements, daily function descriptions, and employment history details help the firm?s attorneys build well-supported cases.

The complimentary consultation determines eligibility based on work credits, diagnosis severity, and conditions expected to last at least 12 months or result in death. Subsequent support includes preparing and filing the entire initial application, saving clients from having to contact the SSA directly. The firm also represents military veterans in SSDI/SSI matters involving service-related conditions?including post-traumatic stress disorder, traumatic brain injury, and joint degeneration?and can coordinate representation regardless of where clients reside.

Firefighters with decades of ladder work and gear hauling may benefit from arguments highlighting ?arduous? past relevant work as defined by SSA. Nurses sidelined by repetitive strain injuries receive documentation linking symptoms to the inability to perform even desk-based roles. Police officers with knee damage from foot pursuits gain strategies emphasizing age, skills, and residual functional capacity (RFC) under SSA guidelines. When conditions preclude even sedentary work, public employees nearing retirement age after decades of manual labor can benefit from SSA?s medical-vocational grid rules and special profiles.

DWB LAW, LLC helps clients navigate SGA, the Trial Work Period (TWP), and overlapping benefits such as Disabled Widow(er)?s Benefits (often abbreviated by SSA as ?DWB??not affiliated with DWB LAW, LLC). Collaboration with treating providers supports claims for common conditions among first responders, including neuropathy, cardiovascular disease, and psychological disorders.

DWB LAW, LLC monitors agency protocol updates to optimize client strategies and streamline case management. The organization encourages qualifying individuals to schedule a free consultation for individualized claim evaluations.

The firm handles federal Social Security matters remotely, in person, and, where permitted by SSA procedures, represents claimants regardless of residence. Court appeals and non-SSA matters are handled consistent with attorney licensure and pro hac vice rules. The firm provides educational resources?and, when scheduled, workshops?to help first-responder households understand Social Security work-credit calculations, appeal strategies, and procedural updates, including SSA?s online filing systems.
