

BlindQuest Expands Window Treatment Services Throughout Greater St. Louis Area

February 28, 2026

TROY, IL - February 28, 2026 -
BlindQuest Inc., a family-owned window treatment specialist, has expanded its service area throughout the greater St. Louis region to meet growing demand for custom window coverings and professional design services. The expansion enables more homeowners and businesses to access the company's comprehensive selection of blinds, shades, shutters, and drapery solutions.

The expanded service area allows BlindQuest to provide its signature on site consultation services to a broader customer base, bringing expert design guidance directly to homes and businesses across the metropolitan region. As an authorized Hunter Douglas Gallery, the company offers an extensive portfolio of window treatment options from leading manufacturers including Hunter Douglas, Carole Fabrics, Insolroll, and Alta.

"The decision to expand our service area reflects the strong demand we've seen for professional window treatment services throughout the greater St. Louis region," said Carly Shaffer, Design Consultant at BlindQuest. "Many homeowners are seeking expert guidance to select the right window treatments that balance aesthetics, functionality, and energy efficiency. Our expansion means we can now bring our showroom experience directly to more customers through our comprehensive consultation process."

The company's consultation service includes personalized design sessions where specialists work with clients to evaluate their specific needs, architectural features, and design preferences. During these sessions, design professionals present samples, demonstrate product features, and provide recommendations based on factors such as light control requirements, privacy needs, and interior design goals.

BlindQuest specializes in custom-measured window treatments that are tailored to fit each window's exact specifications. The company's product line encompasses a wide range of options including Alustra Architectural Roller Shades, Silhouette Sheer Shades, Pirouette Sheer Shades, Duette Honeycomb Shades, Vignette Modern Roman Shades, and Provenance Woven Wood Shades. Additional offerings include various vertical blind solutions such as Skyline Vertical Panel Track Blinds and Luminette Sheer Panels, as well as shutter options including Heritance Hardwood Shutters and Palm Beach Polysatin Shutters.

Beyond product selection and consultation, the company provides professional installation services and operates as a Hunter Douglas Repair Center, offering maintenance and repair services for existing window treatments. This comprehensive approach ensures customers receive support throughout the entire lifecycle of their window treatment investment.

The expansion comes at a time when many homeowners are investing in home improvements that enhance both comfort and energy efficiency. Custom window treatments can significantly impact a home's energy consumption by providing insulation and controlling solar heat gain, while also protecting furniture and flooring from UV damage.

BlindQuest is a family-owned and operated company based in Troy, Illinois, serving as an authorized Hunter Douglas Gallery. The company maintains a showroom where customers can explore various window treatment options and meet with design professionals. With its expanded service area, BlindQuest continues its commitment to delivering custom window treatment solutions that combine quality craftsmanship with professional design expertise throughout the greater St. Louis metropolitan area.
