

Par Golf Supply Now Offering New Non-Printed Items

April 04, 2016

April 04, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Par Golf Supply, Inc., a supplier of Custom Printed golf products in Schaumburg, Illinois, has announced that they are now offering many of their items non-printed. Mike Gallichio, spokesperson for the company, says, "Offering items without customization, without anything printed on them is something we haven't really done in the past. We're very pleased that we can now provide non printed golf items to our loyal customers, and hopefully to new customers."

Mike Gallichio states that the company has been providing printed items, including golf balls, accessories, and apparel, for many years, and that the decision to begin offering non-printed items was one that was in the works for quite some time. While the company will still be providing printed products, Gallichio says that they hope their non-printed products will appeal to a greater number of customers.

"Not everyone wants item personalized," Gallichio explains. "And some businesses want to be able to purchase items non-printed in less than minimum quantities. We just feel that this is a great situation for everyone."

In addition to golf balls and T-shirts, the company also provides towels, poker chips, golf tees, and a number of additional products, which are mostly related to the game of golf. The new non-printed products are now available for purchase on Amazon, and the company states that a number of non-printed products will be initially available.

Par Golf Supply, Inc. has been in business since 1989, supplying a number of customized items for personal and corporate use. The company states that they have always offered fast shipping and manufacturing of their printed products, and that shipping for their new line of non-printed products will be even faster.

Those who would like to learn more about the company or see the full line of products without printing that they are now offering can visit them on their official website or see their seller's page on the Amazon marketplace. The company states that customers can order from Amazon or through their website, and those wishing to learn more about upcoming product releases can also connect with them through their Facebook page.

###

For more information about Par Golf Supply, Inc., contact the company here: Par Golf Supply, Inc. Mike Gallichio 847-891-1222 sales@pargolf.com Par Golf Supply, Inc. 550 Pratt Avenue N Schaumburg IL 60193

Par Golf Supply, Inc.

At Par Golf Supply Inc, we offer logo and personalized golf items such golf balls, tees and much more. We offer fast and dependable service and sell the highest quality tees. We keep stock of ten million tees at all times and can handle any size order.

Website: <http://www.pargolf.com/>

Email: sales@pargolf.com

Phone: 847-891-1222

Powered by PressAdvantage.com