Expo Productions Expands Video Production Capabilities for Colorado Businesses

February 24, 2026

Brighton, Colorado - February 24, 2026 - PRESSADVANTAGE -
Expo Productions, a Denver-based videography company, has expanded its corporate video production capabilities to meet growing demand from Colorado businesses seeking professional video content for marketing, training, and brand storytelling purposes.

The expansion includes enhanced equipment upgrades to 4K production capabilities, additional creative team members, and comprehensive video packages designed specifically for corporate clients. The company now offers end-to-end video solutions ranging from concept development and scriptwriting to professional filming and post-production editing.

"Businesses across Colorado are recognizing that professional video content has become essential for connecting with audiences and communicating their brand message effectively," said Matthew Jackson, founder of Expo Productions. "Our expanded capabilities allow us to deliver higher quality productions with faster turnaround times while maintaining the creative storytelling approach that sets our work apart."

Expo Productions Corporate Videography services now encompass a wide range of business applications including executive interviews, training videos, event coverage, testimonial films, and brand storytelling content. The company has invested in state-of-the-art equipment and expanded its team of videographers and editors to handle increased project volume while maintaining personalized service for each client.

The enhanced services address the growing need for businesses to establish a strong video presence across digital platforms. Corporate clients can now access comprehensive packages that include pre-production planning, multi-camera shoots, drone footage capabilities, motion graphics integration, and professional sound design. Each project follows a detailed production process from initial consultation through final delivery.

"We have structured our services to remove the complexity from corporate video production," added Jackson. "Our clients can focus on their core business while we handle every technical and creative aspect of bringing their vision to life on screen."

Expo Productions Video Production offerings extend beyond traditional corporate videos to include commercial production, social media content creation, real estate videography, and event documentation. The company serves businesses throughout Colorado, providing on-site filming at client locations as well as studio production options.

The expansion comes as video content continues to drive engagement across all digital channels. Studies consistently show that video content generates higher engagement rates than static content, with viewers retaining 95 percent of a message when consumed through video compared to just 10 percent when reading text.

Expo Productions specializes in creating video content that aligns with strategic business objectives while maintaining high production values. The company's approach combines technical excellence with creative storytelling to produce videos that resonate with target audiences and deliver measurable results for clients.

Based in Denver, Expo Productions provides comprehensive video production services including advertising, commercials, corporate videos, explainer videos, real estate videos, social media videos, testimonial videos, and wedding videography. The company also covers various events such as concerts, conferences, corporate events, and parties, offering clients a single source for all their video production needs.
