Hinesville, Georgia - February 19, 2026 -
Arrowhead Clinic Chiropractor Hinesville has announced an enhanced collaboration with leading personal injury attorneys in the Hinesville area to ensure accident victims receive comprehensive medical treatment without upfront costs while maximizing their injury settlements. The integrated approach combines specialized chiropractic care with legal advocacy to address both the medical and financial challenges faced by injury victims.

The local auto accident injury treatment clinic has developed a streamlined referral system that connects patients with reputable attorneys who work on a contingency basis, meaning patients pay no legal fees unless their case results in a settlement. This arrangement allows injured individuals to focus on recovery while experienced professionals handle the complex insurance and legal processes.

"When someone experiences a personal injury, they often face mounting medical bills at the worst possible time," said Dr. Branden Race, lead chiropractor at Arrowhead Clinic Hinesville. "Our partnership with trusted personal injury attorneys ensures patients can access the treatment they need immediately, without worrying about out-of-pocket expenses. The attorneys we work with understand the medical documentation required to build strong cases, which ultimately helps our patients receive fair compensation for their injuries."

The clinic, located at 1146 Elma G Miles Parkway in Hinesville, specializes in treating various injury types including car accidents, truck accidents, motorcycle accidents, whiplash, slip and fall incidents, and workplace injuries. With over 48 years of experience treating accident victims, Arrowhead Clinic has established relationships with attorneys who specialize in personal injury law and understand the complexities of injury claims.
