

Unlimited Comfort Mattress Factory Announces Expanded Manufacturing Capacity at Sarasota Facility

February 27, 2026

SARASOTA, FL - February 27, 2026 -
Unlimited Comfort Mattress Factory, a Sarasota-based manufacturer of handcrafted mattresses, announced today an expansion of its manufacturing operations to meet increased demand from Southwest Florida customers, including enhanced production capabilities for custom recreational vehicle and marine mattresses at its 4051 Clark Road facility.

The expansion comes as the company reports a 40 percent increase in orders over the past year, particularly for specialized mattresses designed for RVs and boats. The facility now produces five distinct mattress models alongside its custom manufacturing division, with delivery services extending throughout the region.

"We have invested in additional manufacturing equipment and expanded our production team to address the growing demand for locally manufactured sleep products," said a spokesperson for Unlimited Comfort Mattress Factory in Sarasota. "The expansion allows us to maintain our handcrafted approach while increasing our capacity to serve customers from Naples to Bradenton."

The Sarasota facility manufactures the Cloud 11th model featuring the American Comfort2000 Pocketed Coil System with luxury foam layers, the Diamond model offering medium-firm support with Energex and pulse latex foam, the Infinity all-foam memory design with three-zoned support, the Paradise model with the American Comfort800 Pocketed Coil System, and the SRQ model designed for extra-firm support requirements.

As a mattress store Naples area residents utilize for custom solutions, the company has structured its operations to accommodate both standard and specialized orders. The expansion includes dedicated production lines for recreational vehicle and marine mattresses, addressing the specific dimensional requirements of mobile living spaces.

The manufacturer provides white-glove delivery services across Southwest Florida communities. Each mattress includes a 15-year warranty and the company's lifetime comfort adjustment program, which permits firmness modifications after purchase. This service addresses the evolving support needs of customers over time.

Recent industry data from the International Sleep Products Association indicates that regional mattress manufacturers have gained market share as consumers increasingly seek locally produced goods. The trend toward customization has particularly benefited manufacturers capable of producing non-standard sizes and specifications.

Unlimited Comfort offers specialized mattress delivery in Bradenton, along with services extending to Lakewood Ranch, North Port, and Venice. The delivery team manages the installation and removal of existing mattresses as part of the service.

"The ability to manufacture custom dimensions sets regional producers apart in the current market," added the spokesperson. "Our expansion positions us to meet both standard residential needs and the specialized requirements of the RV and marine communities throughout Florida."

The company's showroom displays each mattress model, allowing customers to evaluate construction details and support characteristics before purchase. Staff members provide information about the materials and manufacturing processes used in each design.

Unlimited Comfort Mattress Factory operates as a vertically integrated manufacturer, controlling the production process from raw materials to final delivery. The company maintains its manufacturing operations in Sarasota while serving customers throughout Southwest Florida's coastal and inland communities. The expansion reinforces the company's position as a regional manufacturer of both standard and custom mattress solutions.
