

daylight AG Enhances School Administration Software Platform for Swiss Educational Institutions

February 20, 2026

Winterthur, ZH - February 20, 2026 - daylight AG, a Winterthur-based educational technology company, has announced significant enhancements to its comprehensive software platform designed to streamline administrative operations for schools and educational organizations throughout Switzerland. The integrated system combines school administration, course management, examination processing, event coordination, and accounting functions into a single, modular solution.

The enhanced platform addresses growing demands from Swiss educational institutions seeking to modernize their administrative processes while maintaining data security and operational efficiency. The software improvements focus on automation capabilities, user interface refinements, and expanded integration options with existing educational technology systems. Additional information about daylight AG can be found at https://pressadvantage.com/organization/daylight-ag/.

The company explains that educational institutions face increasing pressure to manage complex administrative tasks while dedicating maximum resources to student learning and development. The enhanced platform enables schools to significantly reduce administrative overhead through intelligent automation and seamless process integration, allowing educators to focus on what matters most - student success.

The comprehensive software suite offers multiple modules that educational institutions can implement based on their specific needs. Core functionalities include people and address management, registration processing, resource allocation, financial accounting, and customer relationship management tools. The platform also enables institutions to create customized online portals for course registration, automated confirmation systems, and integrated payment processing.

Swiss educational organizations have increasingly sought digital solutions that comply with local data protection regulations while providing the flexibility to adapt to individual institutional requirements. The daylight AG platform operates either as an on-premises installation or a cloud-based service, ensuring seamless integration with existing IT infrastructure.

The software development reflects more than two decades of experience serving the Swiss education sector. The company has established itself as a trusted partner for schools, training centers, and educational service providers seeking reliable, scalable technology solutions. Recent updates have focused on enhancing multilingual capabilities, improving mobile accessibility, and strengthening data analytics features to support evidence-based decision making in educational administration. Educational institutions utilizing the platform report significant improvements in operational efficiency, with automated processes reducing manual data entry and minimizing administrative errors. The integrated approach eliminates redundant data management across different departments, creating a unified system for all administrative functions.

The platform's modular architecture allows institutions to implement specific components according to their immediate needs and expand functionality as requirements evolve. This scalability makes the solution suitable for small training providers as well as large educational institutions managing complex multi-campus operations.

Based at Bahnhofplatz 12 in Winterthur, daylight AG continues to develop innovative solutions that address the evolving needs of the Swiss education sector. The company maintains strong partnerships with educational institutions across Switzerland, ensuring that software development remains aligned with practical operational requirements and emerging educational trends. Location details are available at https://maps.app.goo.gl/FYDvnuHbdtTgjGRaA.
