

Sasso Guerrero & Henderlite Launches Media Center for Family Law Resources

February 21, 2026

JACKSONVILLE, FL - February 21, 2026 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Sasso Guerrero & Henderlite, a Jacksonville-based law firm specializing in family and criminal law, today announced the launch of a centralized online media center designed to provide Northeast Florida residents with accessible educational resources about family law topics. The new platform represents the firm's commitment to transparency and public education regarding legal matters that affect families throughout the region.

The Sasso Guerrero & Henderlite media center will serve as a comprehensive resource hub where members of the public can access informational articles, updates, and announcements related to family law services. The platform addresses common questions about divorce proceedings, child custody arrangements, alimony considerations, and other family law matters that individuals may encounter during challenging life transitions.

"Creating this media center reflects our dedication to ensuring that people have access to reliable legal information when they need it most," said Jay Henderlite, Board Certified Marital & Family Law Expert and managing partner at the firm. "Family law situations can be overwhelming, and we believe that providing educational resources helps individuals make more informed decisions about their legal options."

The media center launch comes as family law practices across Florida recognize the growing need for accessible legal information. With complex regulations governing divorce, custody, and support matters, many individuals struggle to understand their rights and responsibilities without proper guidance. The new platform aims to bridge this information gap by providing clear, factual content about various family law topics.

The firm's decision to establish this resource center builds upon its reputation as the only law firm in Northeast Florida with three Board Certified Marital & Family Law Experts serving as managing partners. This specialized expertise enables the firm to provide authoritative information across a wide spectrum of family law matters, from adoption and paternity issues to military divorce and collaborative divorce processes.

Beyond traditional family law topics, the media center will also address emerging areas of practice, including assisted reproductive technology law and legal matters affecting LGBTQ+ families. The platform will feature regular updates to reflect changes in Florida family law statutes and relevant court decisions that may impact families in the Jacksonville area and throughout Northeast Florida.

The firm maintains offices throughout the Jacksonville area and has established itself as a resource for both family and criminal law matters. In addition to its family law practice, which encompasses sixteen distinct service areas, the firm also provides criminal defense representation in cases involving domestic violence, DUI charges, drug crimes, and other criminal matters.

Sasso Guerrero & Henderlite's new media center represents an expansion of the firm's educational outreach efforts. The platform will complement the firm's existing client services by providing a centralized location for legal information that can benefit the broader Northeast Florida community. As family law continues to evolve, the media center will serve as a dynamic resource, regularly updated to reflect current legal developments and address emerging issues affecting families in the region.
