April 12, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

St. Francis 24 Hour Animal Hospital, based in Vancouver, WA, is celebrating their 15th year in business as the best veterinarian service in the area. The clinic has been providing animal care since 2001, and has no plans of stopping anytime soon. "We look forward to seeing what the next 15 years has in store for us," says a spokesperson for the veterinary clinic. "We have grown significantly in the past few years and hope to see that growth compounded in the future."

The veterinary clinic provides general and emergency care for small animals, and is open 24 hours a day and 365 days a year. In addition to annual examinations and vaccinations, they offer spay and neuter surgeries, in-house bloodwork, x-rays and ultrasounds, and a number of other services including dental care and prescription diets for pets.

The clinic credits their patients with their longevity. "We wouldn't be where we are today without our pet parents," states the clinic spokesperson. "We truly appreciate every pet and every owner that comes through our door, and look forward to providing quality pet care for a long time into the future."

The clinic has been providing the same range of services since their opening, and offers medical care for all small domestic animals. The clinic spokesperson states that anyone who has questions about the pets that they care for or the services that they offer is welcome to contact them through their website or stop by. The clinic never closes, which is one reason why they state they have been in business for so long.

Clinic staff state that because they are open year-round and around the clock, pet owners know that they can get the medical care their pets need when they need it, for simple diagnosis as well as critical care.
