February 24, 2026 -
STM Trucks & Machinery, a family-owned provider of trucks and machinery based in Western Sydney, continues to serve businesses across New South Wales with a comprehensive range of commercial vehicles, heavy equipment, and support services. Operating from three locations in Smeaton Grange, Queanbeyan West, and Unanderra, the company has built a reputation over more than 50 years for its commitment to the trades, construction, and small business sectors.

STM Trucks & Machinery supplies new trucks from manufacturers including Iveco and Fuso, alongside machinery from brands such as Kobelco, Merlo, D'avino, and ASV. The company also maintains a regularly updated inventory of quality used trucks and machinery, providing options for operators at different stages of business growth.

"We've always believed that the backbone of our business is the relationships we build with our customers," said a spokesperson for STM Trucks & Machinery. "Whether someone is starting out with their first truck or expanding a fleet, we want to make sure they have the right equipment and the right support behind them."

Beyond vehicle and equipment sales, STM operates a full-service workshop at its Smeaton Grange headquarters, open six days a week and equipped to accommodate large vehicles, including B-Doubles. The facility is supported by 24/7 emergency repair services and on-site servicing capabilities, designed to minimise downtime for operators who depend on their equipment daily.

The company's parts division stocks genuine truck and machinery parts for brands including Iveco, International, Fuso, Kobelco, ASV, and Cummins, supported by a comprehensive parts department available. A dedicated parts team is available to source components that are not held in immediate stock, and a delivery service operates twice daily across Metropolitan Sydney with additional afternoon runs to the Southern Highlands and Wollongong regions.

"Our goal has always been to keep our customers moving," the spokesperson added. "From same-day parts delivery to emergency after-hours repairs, everything we offer is designed to reduce the impact of unexpected breakdowns on people's livelihoods."

STM also provides flexible truck and machinery finance solutions with fast approvals, assisting customers in acquiring trucks and machinery suited to their operational requirements. The company offers a mobile finance consultation service, meeting clients at their place of business to streamline the approval process. Installation services for newly purchased equipment and ongoing maintenance programs are available to support the long-term performance of customer investments. Customisation options for transportation equipment allow operators to configure vehicles and machinery to meet specific jobsite or industry requirements before taking delivery.

With its expansion to three branches across the state, STM Trucks & Machinery in Smeaton Grange has positioned itself to serve a broad geographic footprint while maintaining the personalised approach that has defined the business since its founding. The Queanbeyan West branch extends the company's reach into the Australian Capital Territory region, while the Unanderra location provides direct access for customers along the South Coast.

Customer amenities at the Smeaton Grange workshop include four courtesy vehicles, rest facilities, and a waiting lounge equipped with refreshments and television, reflecting the company's focus on convenience for operators who rely on efficient turnaround times. Technical support services are also available to help customers achieve optimal performance from their trucks and machinery. STM's client base spans a range of industries, from independent landscapers and owner-operators to established construction firms and logistics providers, each benefiting from the company's broad product range and service-oriented approach.
