

Coventry All-On-4 Dental Implants Treatment For Missing Teeth Suggested by Dr Chetan Mathias at Light Lane Dental Practice

February 25, 2026

COVENTRY, UK - February 25, 2026 -
Light Lane Dental Practice has opened consultation slots for patients interested in All-On-4 dental implant treatments. Dr Chetan Mathias highlighted the availability of restorative dental options for individuals who have lost most or all of their teeth in one or both jaws. Appointments are now bookable for those considering whether All-On-4 implants might suit their circumstances.

All-On-4 dental implants are a treatment designed to replace a full arch of missing teeth using four strategically positioned titanium posts. The approach differs from traditional implant methods by using fewer implants to support an entire set of replacement teeth, removing the need for an individual implant for each missing tooth. According to the announcement, All-On-4 implants provide a fixed solution that stays permanently in place, unlike removable dentures. The four implants get positioned at specific angles in the jawbone to maximise stability and support, with two placed vertically at the front and two angled towards the back of the jaw.

All-On-4 dental implants can sometimes be finished faster than placing several single implants, according to the practice. Instead of waiting months for healing, patients can often leave with a functional set of teeth thanks to the ability to attach temporary replacements on the same day as implant placement. Permanent replacement teeth are fitted to finish the procedure after the implants have fused with the jawbone. Because the angled placement of the rear implants frequently enables treatment to proceed without bone grafting procedures, the technique may be appropriate for patients who have experienced some degree of bone loss.

Light Lane Dental Practice has confirmed that the consultation process begins with a thorough assessment of the patient's dental health and medical history. The dental team examines the mouth and takes X-rays or scans to evaluate bone density and structure. This knowledge determines whether a patient has sufficient bone to support All-On-4 implants or whether additional preparatory work may be needed.

Dr Chetan Mathias spoke about All-On-4 implants for extensive tooth loss. "For patients missing most or all of their teeth, All-On-4 implants offer a practical alternative to traditional dentures. The fixed nature means they don't move during eating or speaking, which addresses one of the main complaints people have about removable dentures. The treatment uses fewer implants than placing individual ones for each tooth, which can reduce both time and cost. Not everyone is suitable, particularly if bone loss is severe, but for appropriate candidates it provides a stable, long-term solution."

Consultations at Light Lane Dental Practice include a discussion about what All-On-4 implants involve and how long the process typically takes. The dental team explains the stages of treatment, from initial implant placement through to fitting the final replacement teeth. Patients receive information about what to expect during recovery and how to care for their implants while healing takes place. The consultation also covers any potential complications and what steps can be taken to minimise risks.

Dr Chetan Mathias works with patients to understand their specific circumstances and treatment preferences before making recommendations. The practice has made clear that not everyone is a suitable candidate for All-On-4 dental implants. Conditions such as uncontrolled diabetes, certain medications, or habits like smoking can affect healing and may influence whether implants are recommended.
