Kelley Construction Contractors Brings Technology-Driven Remodeling to Central Illinois

February 25, 2026

PEKIN, IL - February 25, 2026 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Kelley Construction Contractors, Inc., a family-owned general contractor based in Central Illinois, continues to serve homeowners and commercial clients across the Peoria region with a full-service approach to remodeling and renovation. Founded in 1994 by Mike Kelley, who remains at the helm as CEO and President, the company has spent more than 30 years building its reputation on quality craftsmanship, transparent project planning, and hands-on leadership involvement from consultation through completion.

Operating from offices in Pekin, Peoria, and Normal, Kelley Construction serves a 50-mile radius around Peoria, covering communities including Bloomington, East Peoria, Morton, Washington, Springfield, and surrounding areas. The company's service offering spans residential and commercial projects, with core capabilities in bathroom remodels, kitchen remodels, custom decks, home additions, siding, flooring, roofing, and sunroom installations.

"From the very beginning, our focus has been on making the remodeling experience as clear and stress-free as possible for our clients," said a representative of Kelley Construction Contractors, Inc. "We want every homeowner to feel confident that what they see in the design phase is exactly what they'll get when the project is finished."

Central to the company's approach is its use of advanced design and estimation technology, which allows customers to visualise completed projects before construction begins. By incorporating AI-assisted tools into the planning process, Kelley Construction provides detailed visual representations that help clients understand the scope and outcome of their investment prior to any commitment. Free project designs and estimates are included with every consultation, with turnaround typically delivered within one week.

This technology-driven process is supported by direct involvement from the company's ownership and leadership team throughout every stage of a project. From the initial consultation and design review through permitting, construction, and final walkthrough, Kelley Construction manages the full lifecycle of each engagement. The company handles all aspects of project coordination, including permits and scheduling, to reduce the administrative burden on clients.

"We don't hand off projects and disappear," the representative added. "Our clients have direct access to our leadership team throughout the entire process. That level of accountability is something we've built our business on, and it's a commitment we take seriously on every single project."

The company's workforce includes experienced carpenters and estimators recruited from across the Central Illinois region, and all projects are backed by a workmanship warranty program that includes one-year coverage on every project and five-year coverage on roofing work. Kelley Construction holds GAF Master Elite® Contractor certification, an Illinois Unlimited Roofing Contractor license, and is a BBB Accredited Business, providing additional assurance of professional standards and accountability.

On the commercial side, Kelley Construction offers services including commercial exteriors, commercial roofing, and interior remodeling for business properties. The company is also an authorised installer of Conklin® commercial roofing products, extending its capabilities to larger-scale projects that require specialised materials and installation methods.

Kelley Construction's approach is guided by six core values: Communication, Quality, Accountability, Integrity, Urgency, and Expertise, which inform how the company operates at every level. The result is a contracting experience designed to prioritise transparency, fair pricing, and consistent outcomes for clients across a range of project types and sizes.

With three decades of continuous operation in the same market, Kelley Construction has established itself as a consistent presence in the Central Illinois construction landscape. The company continues to invest in its design technology and team capabilities as demand for residential and commercial remodeling services grows across the region.
