Dr. Jeffrey Schreiber with Baltimore Plastic and Cosmetic Surgery Center in Maryland has reported an increase in the demand for men's plastic surgery procedures. The Baltimore plastic surgeon reports that a number of men have scheduled various procedures in the past few months.

Dr. Schreiber states that, "People choose to have plastic surgery for a number of reasons and historically, plastic surgery was a woman's thing. Today, however, we offer several different procedures, many of which are suitable for men." He says that many men, of all ages, have begun scheduling appointments for everything from facial to body rejuvenation.

The plastic surgeon Baltimore residents can go to states that while some men choose procedures to look younger, others choose to highlight complimentary features or change a feature that they are unhappy with. Baltimore Plastic and Cosmetic Surgery Center offers a number of procedures designed to help men and women, including a number of non-surgical procedures that Dr. Schreiber states men seem to find very beneficial.

"We've seen a number of male patients choose things like botox when historically, this was considered a woman's procedure. Men want to look their best just as much as women do, and this is what we've seen with the influx of new male appointments."

The plastic surgeon Baltimore can depend on says that his clinic provides the latest in surgical and non-surgical facial cosmetic rejuvenation treatments, and offer a wide range of options that for facial rejuvenation that can include the face, eyelids, chin, nose, neck, and ears.
