DAVENPORT, Iowa - March 02, 2026 -
Northwest Plumbing Heating & AC has expanded its technical capabilities and service offerings to address the increased demand for heating system services during the winter months. The Davenport-based company, which has served the Quad Cities area since 1923, reports enhanced technician training programs and upgraded diagnostic equipment to better serve homeowners facing heating system challenges.

The expansion comes as the company responds to seasonal patterns showing increased furnace failures and heating system emergencies during cold weather periods. The enhanced services include comprehensive furnace diagnostics, boiler system repairs, geothermal heating maintenance, and high-efficiency equipment installations. The company has also strengthened its plumbing division to address winter-related drain and pipe issues that often accompany temperature drops.

"Winter conditions place significant stress on both heating and plumbing systems, and we've invested in advanced diagnostic technology and continuous technician training to ensure we can address the full spectrum of home comfort challenges," said Bill Durand, spokesperson for Northwest Plumbing Heating & AC. "Our expanded capabilities allow us to provide comprehensive solutions whether homeowners need emergency AC repair in unexpected warm spells or urgent furnace service during cold snaps."

The company's enhanced winter service program includes camera inspection technology for identifying plumbing blockages, professional-grade drain cleaning equipment, and preventative maintenance programs designed to minimize emergency calls during peak winter months. These technical improvements complement the company's established heating and cooling operations, providing homeowners with integrated home comfort solutions.

Northwest Plumbing Heating & AC has also introduced updated Service Partner Agreements, starting at $99 annually for heating systems and $119.40 for plumbing services. These agreements include scheduled maintenance visits, priority service scheduling, and waived after-hours fees. The preventative maintenance plans now cover furnace systems, boilers, geothermal heating, high-efficiency equipment, and comprehensive plumbing inspections.

The company has upgraded its online scheduling platform to reduce wait times and ensure prompt service delivery. Additionally, flexible financing options through GreenSky help homeowners manage unexpected repair costs or system replacements. The company maintains 24-hour emergency service availability to address urgent heating system failures and plumbing emergencies throughout the service area.

In a recent news article highlighting regional service providers, industry analysts noted the importance of companies maintaining comprehensive technical capabilities to address diverse home comfort needs. The ability to service multiple systems from a single provider reduces homeowner stress and ensures consistent service quality across different home maintenance requirements.

Northwest Plumbing Heating & AC continues its century-long tradition of providing comprehensive home comfort solutions including installation, repair, and maintenance services for all major heating, cooling, and plumbing systems. The company offers free estimates for system replacements and maintains a team of certified technicians experienced with all types of heating and cooling equipment. The expanded winter services reflect the company's commitment to meeting evolving customer needs while maintaining the reliability and quality that has defined its service for over 100 years.
