Tigard, Oregon - March 04, 2026 -
Next Level Decks and Exteriors, a premier exterior contracting company serving the greater Portland metropolitan area, continues to transform residential outdoor spaces through specialized pergola construction services that blend aesthetic appeal with functional design. The Tigard-based company emphasizes custom solutions tailored to each property's unique characteristics and homeowner preferences.

The company's pergola services address growing demand for versatile outdoor structures that provide partial shade while maintaining an open-air ambiance. These installations serve multiple purposes, from defining outdoor dining areas to creating garden focal points that enhance property value and usability.

"Pergolas represent more than simple shade structures; they create defined outdoor rooms that extend living space beyond traditional home boundaries," said Michael, a spokesperson from Next Level Decks and Exteriors. "Each design considers factors including sun exposure, prevailing winds, existing landscaping, and intended use to ensure the final structure integrates seamlessly with both the home's architecture and the surrounding environment."

The construction process begins with a comprehensive site evaluation and consultation to determine optimal placement, sizing, and material selection. Cedar remains a popular choice for its natural weather resistance and aesthetic warmth, though the company also works with pressure-treated lumber and composite materials based on client preferences and budget considerations.

Structural integrity forms the foundation of every pergola installation. Posts are secured using appropriate footings determined by soil conditions and local building codes. Beam and rafter configurations are calculated to support both the structure's weight and any additional elements such as climbing plants, fabric canopies, or integrated lighting systems.

Next Level Decks and Exteriors pergola builder services extend beyond standalone structures to include attached pergolas that create seamless transitions between indoor and outdoor spaces. These attached designs often incorporate features such as retractable shade systems, built-in seating, or connections to existing deck structures.

The company's expertise encompasses various pergola styles, from traditional designs featuring decorative end cuts and lattice details to contemporary minimalist structures with clean lines and metal accents. Customization options include integrated planters, privacy screens, and coordination with existing or planned hardscaping elements.

Maintenance considerations factor into every design decision. The company provides detailed care instructions specific to chosen materials and finishes, ensuring long-term structural integrity and appearance retention. Their team also offers ongoing maintenance services to preserve the investment homeowners make in their outdoor living spaces.

"Quality craftsmanship combined with thoughtful design creates outdoor structures that homeowners genuinely enjoy using," added Michael. "We focus on building pergolas that not only meet immediate needs but also adapt to evolving lifestyle requirements over time."

Next Level Decks and Exteriors operates throughout Washington and Multnomah Counties, including Beaverton, Tigard, Portland, Lake Oswego, and Tualatin. The company specializes in comprehensive exterior contracting services, including deck construction and repair, fence installation, siding services, patio covers, and dry rot remediation.
