

Siam Legal Highlights Thailand Privilege Platinum Card as Strategic Family Residency Solution Amid Extended Family Add-On Promotion

Siam Legal International, a leading law firm in Thailand and government-authorized General Sales and Services Agent for the Thailand Privilege program, has issued an advisory highlighting the Thailand Privilege Platinum Visa as a structured long-term residency pathway for foreign couples and families planning to live in Thailand. The firm also notes that to meet growing demand for family inclusion, Thailand Privilege has extended a limited-time family add-on promotion allowing the next member to be added for 500,000 THB, with the promotion valid until the end of March 2026.

As global mobility trends evolve, increasing numbers of foreign nationals relocating to Thailand are doing so with spouses and children rather than as individuals. Digital nomads with dependents, retirees seeking a stable base in Southeast Asia, and internationally mobile professionals are prioritizing immigration solutions that offer continuity, predictability, and simplified administration for the entire household. According to Siam Legal, the Thailand Privilege Platinum Visa responds directly to this demand.

The Thailand Privilege program, widely known as the Thailand Elite Visa, is a government-backed long-term residency program offering multiple membership tiers designed to accommodate extended stays in Thailand. Among these tiers, the Platinum membership provides up to 10 years of multiple-entry visa validity, granting members long-term immigration security while preserving travel flexibility.

A key advantage of the Platinum tier is its family inclusion structure. Eligible family members, including spouses, children, and parents, may be incorporated under the membership framework, enabling households to align their residency status within a single long-term program. This reduces the need for managing separate short-term visa categories and minimizes repeated renewals or frequent immigration uncertainty.

“To families planning a serious move to Thailand, immigration stability is not optional. It is foundational,” said Rex Baay, Senior Immigration Consultant and Operations Manager at Siam Legal International. “The Platinum tier provides multi-year continuity and a structured framework for including dependents. Combined with the current 500,000 THB family add-on promotion, it presents a practical window for families evaluating long-term settlement.”

The recently extended family add-on promotion allows an additional family member to be included for 500,000 THB, with eligibility under the promotion expiring at the end of March 2026. Siam Legal notes that this promotional structure significantly reduces the financial barrier for households considering relocation as a unit, particularly where multiple dependents are involved.

Beyond visa validity, the Platinum tier includes lifestyle and administrative support services designed to ease long-term integration into Thailand. Members benefit from multiple-entry rights, airport fast-track services, and government services concierge, such as bank account coordination and driver’s license applications. Privilege points allocated under each membership, reinforcing the program’s suitability for household-based relocation rather than individual residency planning.

As an authorised GSSA for the Thailand Privilege program, Siam Legal provides structured advisory services from initial eligibility assessment through consultation, documentation preparation, and official coordination. The firm advises families on tier selection, inclusion eligibility, compliance considerations, and procedural timelines, ensuring applications are properly structured before submission.

Siam Legal emphasizes that selecting the appropriate Thailand Privilege tier requires careful evaluation of long-term residency objectives, travel patterns, dependent status, and overall relocation strategy. Professional guidance reduces administrative complexity and enhances clarity regarding program obligations and benefits.

With Thailand continuing to attract foreign residents seeking long-term stability in Asia, the Thailand Privilege Platinum Card stands out as a secure, government-supported residency pathway tailored to families. Siam Legal encourages couples and households considering relocation to seek early consultation, particularly before the expiration of the family add-on promotion in March 2026, to assess eligibility and prepare their applications in a timely and structured manner.
