BALTIMORE, MD - March 13, 2026 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Attorney Thomas Maronick Jr., founder of Maronick Law, has been named an honoree in The Daily Record's 2026 Leaders in Law. The recognition highlights legal professionals across Maryland who strengthen businesses and communities through service, leadership, and professional excellence.

The awards are presented annually by The Daily Record and the Maryland State Bar Association to recognize outstanding legal leaders across the state. Maronick's selection highlights his ongoing leadership at Maronick Law and his commitment to representing individuals and businesses throughout Maryland.

The Daily Record's Leaders in Law program honors attorneys and judges whose dedication to their profession and communities has made a meaningful impact across Maryland. The awards pay tribute to the ways legal professionals serve businesses, clients, and individuals throughout the state while helping strengthen Maryland's communities and institutions.

Leaders in Law honorees are recognized for professional achievement, involvement in the legal profession, community service, and mentorship within the legal field. The program highlights individuals whose work reflects both legal excellence and a commitment to serving others through the practice of law.

"This recognition reflects the dedication our entire team brings to advocating for our clients every day," said Maronick. "We are honored to serve individuals and businesses throughout Maryland and remain committed to protecting their rights."

Maronick leads Maronick Law, a Maryland-based law firm that represents individuals and businesses across the state in a range of legal matters. Through his leadership, the firm works to assist clients navigating complex legal challenges while helping them better understand their rights and options under the law.

The firm's legal practice includes criminal defense, personal injury, and civil litigation matters. Attorneys at Maronick Law work with clients throughout Maryland to address legal issues that can significantly impact their personal lives, businesses, and futures.

An awards ceremony will be hosted for Maronick and other honorees on Monday, April 20 from 4:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. at the Hilton Baltimore BWI Airport.

The Leaders in Law program recognizes legal professionals across a variety of categories, including attorneys in private practice, corporate counsel, and members of the judiciary. Honorees are selected based on their professional accomplishments, leadership within the legal community, and dedication to serving clients and the public. The program highlights individuals whose work reflects the important role the legal profession plays in Maryland's communities.

The 2026 Leaders in Law honorees will be celebrated during an awards event hosted by The Daily Record, which has recognized legal professionals through the program for more than two decades. The event brings together members of Maryland's legal community to recognize attorneys and judges whose work contributes to the strength and integrity of the profession.

Honorees are also featured in a special Leaders in Law publication produced by The Daily Record that highlights their professional accomplishments and contributions to the legal community.
