OA Design Marketing Ltd, operating as Edge To Edge Home (Flooring Berkshire) - Flooring Sonning, announces the expansion of its flooring installation services to meet increased demand for residential and commercial projects throughout Berkshire. The company now offers enhanced consultation services and extended material options including hardwood, luxury vinyl tile, laminate, and carpet installations.

The expansion comes as property owners across Berkshire seek professional flooring solutions for renovation projects scheduled this spring. "We have expanded our service offerings to address the growing demand for professional flooring installations in Berkshire," said Oliver Andrews, spokesperson for Edge To Edge Home Flooring. "Our enhanced consultation process now includes detailed material analysis and space assessment to help clients select appropriate flooring solutions based on traffic patterns, maintenance requirements, and budget parameters."

The expanded residential services include wood flooring installations, laminate flooring options, and luxury vinyl tile solutions. Each installation service incorporates updated techniques and materials designed to meet current building standards and homeowner requirements. The company has also introduced carpet whipping and binding services, sheet vinyl installations, and safety flooring options for specialized applications.

Commercial clients can now access dedicated flooring solutions designed for high-traffic environments. The commercial division offers wood, laminate, and luxury vinyl tile installations specifically engineered for business settings. These materials undergo testing to ensure they meet commercial durability standards while maintaining appearance over extended periods.

The company's service area encompasses Sonning and multiple locations throughout Berkshire. Installation teams follow industry-standard procedures for subfloor preparation, material acclimation, and proper installation techniques. Each project includes initial consultation, material selection guidance, and professional installation by certified technicians.

Recent additions to the service portfolio include flooring maintenance programs and repair services. These services address common flooring issues such as wear patterns, water damage, and structural concerns. The maintenance programs help extend flooring lifespan through regular inspection and preventive care measures.

The expanded showroom facility allows clients to examine various flooring materials and compare options before making selections. Sample materials demonstrate differences in texture, durability ratings, and maintenance requirements across product lines. Consultation services include space measurement, subfloor assessment, and timeline development for each project.

OA Design Marketing Ltd has established partnerships with flooring manufacturers to provide access to diverse product lines. These partnerships enable the company to offer materials at various price points while maintaining quality standards. The company maintains an inventory of popular flooring options to reduce project lead times.

The company employs flooring technicians with certifications in various installation methods. Training programs ensure staff members remain current with installation techniques and product specifications.
