

IntroDrink Expands Natural Superfoods and Cosmetics Range for Swiss Wellness Market

March 10, 2026

Zurich, Zurich - March 10, 2026 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

IntroDrink, the Swiss premium natural supplements and wellness retailer, announces significant expansion of its product portfolio to meet growing consumer demand for natural health solutions across Switzerland. The company has enhanced its offerings across multiple categories including immune support, fitness nutrition, beauty supplements, and natural cosmetics.

The expansion comes as Swiss consumers increasingly prioritize natural, bioavailable supplements over synthetic alternatives. IntroDrink now offers comprehensive product lines spanning from traditional vitamins and minerals to innovative adaptogenic herbs, mushroom extracts, and superfood formulations. The company's curated selection includes immune system support products featuring vitamin C, zinc, and elderberry, alongside performance nutrition options such as creatine, amino acids, and plant-based proteins.

Recent market analysis indicates a substantial shift in Swiss consumer preferences toward holistic wellness approaches. IntroDrink plant compounds have gained particular attention, with products like curcumin, rhodiola, and medicinal mushrooms including reishi and lion's mane becoming increasingly popular among health-conscious consumers. The retailer has responded by expanding its botanical extract offerings while maintaining strict quality standards for purity and bioavailability.

The beauty and anti-aging category has seen notable growth, with collagen peptides, hyaluronic acid, and astaxanthin supplements leading consumer interest. IntroDrink has also introduced an extensive natural cosmetics line featuring tallow-based skincare, traditional Aleppo soap, and organic oils including argan and jojoba. These additions reflect the growing trend toward clean beauty products that combine internal supplementation with external skincare.

Sleep and relaxation supplements represent another area of expansion, addressing widespread concerns about stress and sleep quality among Swiss consumers. The company's relaxation range includes melatonin, ashwagandha, valerian, and specialized formulations designed to support natural sleep cycles and stress management.

IntroDrink findings suggest that consumers are increasingly seeking comprehensive wellness solutions rather than isolated supplements. In response, the company has developed targeted wellness bundles addressing specific health goals including immune support, beauty enhancement, detoxification, and energy optimization. These bundles combine complementary products to provide synergistic benefits.

The detox and cleansing category has also been enhanced with chlorella, spirulina, zeolite, and specialized liver support formulas. These products cater to consumers interested in supporting their body's natural detoxification processes through scientifically-backed natural ingredients.

Fitness enthusiasts benefit from an expanded sports nutrition range that emphasizes clean, natural ingredients. Products include branched-chain amino acids, L-carnitine, L-glutamine, and electrolyte formulations designed to support athletic performance and recovery without artificial additives.

IntroDrink maintains its commitment to quality through rigorous testing protocols and partnerships with trusted manufacturers. All products undergo laboratory testing for purity and potency, ensuring Swiss consumers receive premium supplements that meet the highest standards. The company's educational blog provides science-based health content, helping customers make informed decisions about their wellness journey.

The Swiss wellness market continues to evolve, with natural health products becoming integral to preventive healthcare strategies. IntroDrink's expanded portfolio positions the company to serve diverse wellness needs while maintaining its focus on natural, bioavailable ingredients and sustainable practices.
