Best Anonymous VPN, an Iowa City based business that is quickly establishing themselves as an authority site on all things VPN, has recently posted a new review of the IPVanish VPN service. In this review, they address the ins and outs of this particular service. The review, which can be accessed at <http://www.bestanonymousvpn.com/ipvanish/>, is already attracting a lot of attention.

Shane Lewis from Best Anonymous VPN says: "Our goal is to make sure that people can make an informed decision when it comes to choosing their VPN service. We are known for our honest opinions on the various services that are out there, empowering people to see past the sales hype created by service providers, and seeing the real deal. We are very happy to see that our IPVanish review has already informed so many different people."

As can be seen on their website <http://www.bestanonymousvpn.com>, Best Anonymous VPN has already reviewed a large number of VPN providers. They also provide their readers with general information on VPN, such as what it is, why it is necessary, what to look for in a provider, and more. In so doing, they are making sure that people are able to compare the market and find the product that is right for them.

In their IPVanish review, they first address the fact that this type of VPN service is not just for protection against online pirates. Rather, it is for everyday individuals who do not want to be monitored and followed online. "A lot of people still believe that you don't have anything to worry about because you have nothing to hide," adds Shane Lewis. "However, it seems that they have forgotten about their right to privacy. Do you really want government agencies to see every website you go to? We should all have the right to anonymity, particularly on the World Wide Web, which is supposed to be one huge, open source collection."

The company encourages everyone to read their post on best VPN providers, available through <http://www.bestanonymousvpn.com/best-vpn-provider/>. This will help them to identify what they should look for in a VPN service.
