April 11, 2016 -
Soap.Club, a business in Vaughan, ON, Canada, is proud to have launched a premium spa pet deodorizing spray. At present, the product comes in two scents, the lavender pet spray and the sandalwood pet spray, and they are available through Amazon. The company is very excited to be selling through here, as it is proving to be a tremendous opportunity to showcase their pet spa line. The product is the first in a range that will be made available through the online marketplace. Customers are also welcome to purchase the products through the Soap.Club Pet Spa website directly.

Jack Widmer from Soap.Club says: "We are so excited about our new line of products. We have worked very hard to create something that benefits pets in a way that will not cause them harm, and we're very pleased with the results. We're sure our customers will love it as well, as it will give them the opportunity to have their very own pampered pooches."

The lavender dog deodorizer is of spa quality, and uses the same natural ingredients used on spa products for humans. It can be used on cats and dogs alike and is proving to be particularly popular with pet groomers. In addition, pet owners who wash their own animals have found it very useful as well.

The product contains only natural ingredients and is completely free from alcohol. It contains a number of flower, fruit, and other plant extracts to nourish the coat and skin, while leaving it smelling wonderful at the same time. Furthermore, the product is 100% made in the USA, a way for Soap.Club Pet Spa to support the local economy.

"When something is made in the USA, you know it is going to be good," adds Jack Widmer. "There is full control over how each ingredient has been sourced and created, so that you don't have to worry about hidden chemicals and other nasty things being added."

The dog grooming spray is now available for purchase through both Amazon and the company's website. People are encouraged to frequently visit the store so that they will be first to know about any other products.
