

East Dulwich Invisible Braces Teeth Straightening Dentist Dr Mori Shahid Recommends Invisalign Consultations at The Gardens Dental Centre (Smile 4 U)

March 17, 2026

London, England - March 17, 2026 -
The Gardens Dental Centre (Smile 4 U) in East Dulwich has announced the availability of consultation appointments for individuals interested in Invisalign clear aligner treatment. The update reflects continued patient interest in discreet orthodontic options and follows guidance from dentist Dr Mori Shahid, who has encouraged those considering teeth straightening to attend an initial assessment before making treatment decisions.

According to the announcement, Invisalign uses a sequence of transparent aligners that fit closely over the teeth. Each aligner applies gentle pressure to selected areas, gradually moving teeth into new positions. The aligners are removable and are usually replaced at regular intervals as treatment progresses.

The dental team at The Gardens Dental Centre (Smile 4 U) explained that Invisalign is recognised for its subtle appearance compared with traditional metal braces. Because the aligners are clear, they are generally less noticeable during speaking or social interaction. At the same time, the treatment process requires structured planning and monitoring by the dental team.

Consultations for Invisalign usually begin with a discussion about dental history and current concerns regarding alignment. The dental team may examine tooth positioning, bite relationships, and gum condition before outlining possible treatment pathways. Imaging or digital scans can also be used to create a visual reference of existing alignment.

The consultation provides time for questions about treatment stages, expected timelines, and practical considerations such as wearing the aligners daily. Suitability is always considered individually, and some patients may be advised to explore alternative orthodontic approaches depending on their dental structure. Dr Mori Shahid noted that consultations allow the team to assess whether Invisalign is appropriate, and that every treatment plan is created following a full assessment.

In addition to Invisalign, The Gardens Dental Centre (Smile 4 U) provides other teeth straightening treatments for patients whose alignment requires a different approach. Fixed braces remain widely used where controlled movement across multiple teeth is required.

Fixed braces involve brackets attached to the teeth and a wire that gradually guides them into position. The wire is adjusted at intervals, allowing small changes over time. Because the brackets remain in place throughout treatment, they provide continuous guidance for tooth movement.

A 2019 study titled ?A comparison of treatment effectiveness between clear aligner and fixed appliance therapies?, published in BMC Oral Health and conducted in Beijing, China, found that both clear aligners and traditional braces can effectively straighten teeth and correct bite problems. Researchers Ke Y, Zhu Y, and Zhu M noted that clear aligners may offer advantages, including more targeted tooth movement and sometimes shorter treatment times. The study concluded that dentists and orthodontists should consider the differences between these two options and select the most suitable treatment based on each patient?s individual needs.

The practice has confirmed that consultations are structured to ensure patients receive clear information about treatment stages before any decisions are made. Discussions may include oral hygiene during orthodontic care, expected appointment intervals, and how progress is reviewed.

The Gardens Dental Centre (Smile 4 U) is located in East Dulwich and provides dental care and consultation appointments for patients from the surrounding South London area. The practice noted that assessments are arranged so that individuals can discuss dental concerns in a calm setting and consider available options at their own pace.

Interest in teeth straightening has grown in recent years, particularly among adults seeking discreet options that fit within daily routines. The Gardens Dental Centre (Smile 4 U) stated that each Invisalign consultation focuses on understanding individual dental conditions before outlining a potential treatment plan. Some patients may proceed with aligners, while others may be advised to consider fixed braces or alternative dental care depending on the findings.
