JJRM Flooring Expands Comprehensive Flooring Services Across Bexley Borough

June 19, 2026

LONDON, UK - June 19, 2026 -
JJRM Flooring Ltd has expanded its comprehensive flooring services throughout the London Borough of Bexley, offering specialized installation and restoration solutions for both residential and commercial properties across the region.

The London-based flooring specialist now provides enhanced service coverage across Bexley, including Bexleyheath, Sidcup, Welling, Crayford, Erith, Belvedere, and Barnehurst. The expansion addresses growing demand for professional flooring installation and restoration services in Southeast London, where property renovations and commercial developments continue to increase.

JJRM Flooring - Flooring Bexley services encompass a complete range of flooring solutions, from traditional carpet installation to modern luxury vinyl tile systems. The company specializes in nine distinct service categories, including luxury vinyl flooring, laminate installation, engineered and solid wood flooring, commercial safety flooring, and wooden floor restoration. Additional specialized services include carpet whipping and binding, along with comprehensive floor repair solutions.

"The expansion of our services throughout Bexley reflects our commitment to meeting the diverse flooring needs of both homeowners and businesses in Southeast London," said Riedwan Khan, Director of Operations at JJRM Flooring Ltd. "Our team brings extensive knowledge and exceptional craftsmanship to every project, whether installing commercial safety flooring for a warehouse or restoring original wooden floors in a period property."

The company's commercial safety flooring division has seen particular growth, working with leading manufacturers to provide anti-slip solutions for businesses requiring compliance with workplace safety regulations. This service has become increasingly important for commercial properties in Bexley, where retail spaces, offices, and industrial facilities require flooring that meets specific safety standards.

Wooden floor restoration represents another key service area, with JJRM Flooring Ltd utilizing specialist equipment to restore both solid wood and engineered floors to their original condition. The restoration process includes professional sanding, polishing, and lacquering, providing an alternative to complete floor replacement for property owners seeking to preserve original features.

"Property owners in Bexley are increasingly recognizing the value of professional flooring installation and maintenance," added Khan. "Whether selecting luxury vinyl for its durability and design versatility or opting for engineered flooring as a cost-effective alternative to solid wood, our clients benefit from expert guidance throughout the selection and installation process."

The company maintains partnerships with established flooring brands including Amtico, Karndean, Kährs, and Westex Carpets, ensuring access to quality materials for every project. These relationships enable JJRM Flooring Ltd to offer exclusive products alongside comprehensive fitting and installation services.

JJRM Flooring Ltd is a professional floor fitting company based in London, specializing in domestic and commercial flooring solutions. The company offers nine core services ranging from luxury vinyl and laminate installation to wooden floor restoration and commercial safety flooring. With extensive experience across various flooring types and applications, JJRM Flooring Ltd serves residential and commercial clients throughout London and Southeast England.
