SOLON, OH - March 30, 2026 -

Vana Specialty Packaging has continued its partnership with Affy Tapple L.L.C. and Mrs. Prindables since 2010, handling packaging design and delivery for their products in the food and beverage sector. This collaboration involves the provision of packaging that aligns with the brands' requirements for confectionery items.

The partnership includes the assessment of brand identity to inform design choices, followed by guidance through the design phase. Vana Specialty Packaging develops technical drawings and prototypes to confirm feasibility before proceeding to production. Facilities utilize advanced machinery alongside hand-crafted techniques to produce packaging in materials such as paper, tin, and wood. Logistics manage the process from factory to warehouse, including customs clearance and delivery coordination.

This approach has supported Affy Tapple L.L.C. and Mrs. Prindables in their operations over the past decade. The food and beverage industry requires packaging that preserves product freshness while enhancing presentation. Vana Specialty Packaging addresses these needs by incorporating sustainable, eco-friendly materials into designs. The minimum order quantity of 500 to 1000 pieces accommodates production scales suitable for established brands.

Vana Specialty Packaging draws on over 25 years of professional manufacturing and exporting experience. The company's global network of more than 40 factories enables sourcing that adapts to material availability and production demands. In the context of the partnership with Affy Tapple L.L.C. and Mrs. Prindables, this network has facilitated consistent output across various projects.

The collaboration focuses on custom packaging solutions that meet specific product dimensions and protection standards. Designs account for the delicate nature of confectionery, ensuring integrity during transit. Over time, the partnership has involved iterations to packaging structures based on feedback, refining elements like closures and inserts.

Sam Kowalczyk, Senior Product Manager at Affy Tapple L.L.C. and Mrs. Prindables, provided perspective on the collaboration. ?We have worked with VSP for many years and continue to work with them because we love how convenient it is for us! VSP offers us support from design to delivering it to our doors, while keeping pricing competitive,? Kowalczyk said.

Richard Mayer, CEO of Vana Specialty Packaging, commented on the value of such relationships. "Extended collaborations allow for the integration of client-specific knowledge into manufacturing processes, supporting consistent delivery over multiple years," Mayer stated.

These elements highlight how Vana Specialty Packaging contributes to partner logistics in the food and beverage field. The company's services extend to other industries, including health and beauty, where packaging reflects product quality through protective features. In jewelry, sophisticated constructions provide security. Retail options offer versatility, while e-commerce solutions emphasize secure transit.

The sustained partnership with Affy Tapple L.L.C. and Mrs. Prindables demonstrates Vana Specialty Packaging's capacity to manage full-cycle packaging, from initial assessment to final delivery. This includes handling international logistics complexities, such as customs procedures.

As industry standards evolve, Vana Specialty Packaging incorporates updates to materials and methods. The emphasis on eco-friendly options aligns with sector trends toward sustainability. For confectionery products, this means selections that maintain environmental considerations without affecting functionality.

Prototypes play a role in the design process, allowing for testing and adjustments prior to full production. This step reduces potential issues in later stages, contributing to the efficiency of the partnership.

Vana Specialty Packaging's experience in exporting supports partnerships with brands operating in multiple markets. The company's processes are structured to handle varying regulatory requirements across regions.

The integration of hand-crafted elements in production adds detail to packaging, complementing automated processes. This combination ensures outputs meet aesthetic and practical criteria.

In logistics, coordination involves tracking and inventory management to ensure timely arrivals. This has aided the partnership by synchronizing with Affy Tapple L.L.C. and Mrs. Prindables' distribution schedules.

Vana Specialty Packaging serves as a provider of packaging across sectors, specializing in designs that address particular needs. The company manages operations from concept development to execution, with a focus on global sourcing.
