Crown Plumbing & Water Damage Restoration Announces Comprehensive Water Heater Repair and Restoration Services Across Expanded Locations

April 02, 2026

SAN ANTONIO, TX - April 02, 2026 -
Crown Plumbing & Water Damage Restoration has announced the expansion of its integrated plumbing and water damage restoration services to new locations in San Antonio and Selma, Texas, strengthening its ability to provide comprehensive solutions for water heater failures and related property damage throughout the region.

The company has established new service centers on George Road in San Antonio and in Selma, Texas, expanding its reach to better serve residential and commercial clients facing plumbing emergencies and water damage incidents. This expansion comes as the company enhances its dual-service approach, addressing both immediate plumbing repairs and subsequent water damage restoration through a single provider.

Water heater failures remain one of the most common causes of residential water damage, often resulting in extensive property damage when not addressed promptly. The expanded service network enables Crown Plumbing & Water Damage Restoration to respond more quickly to emergencies across the greater San Antonio area, minimizing damage and reducing restoration time for affected properties.

"Water heater failures can cause significant damage within hours, affecting flooring, walls, and personal property," said Jeremy Newman, Operations Director at Crown Plumbing & Water Damage Restoration. "By combining our plumbing expertise with water damage restoration capabilities, we can address both the source of the problem and its consequences efficiently, reducing overall recovery time and costs for property owners."

The company's integrated approach eliminates the need for property owners to coordinate between multiple contractors during water damage incidents. Technicians can repair or replace failed water heaters while simultaneously beginning the water extraction and drying process, preventing secondary damage such as mold growth and structural deterioration.

Crown Plumbing & Water Damage Restoration offers 24/7 emergency response services, recognizing that water damage incidents require immediate attention regardless of the time of day. The company's technicians are trained in both plumbing systems and water damage restoration protocols, ensuring comprehensive service delivery from initial assessment through complete restoration.

The expansion includes enhanced capabilities for handling various water heater systems, including traditional tank models and tankless units. Services encompass installation, repair, replacement, and preventive maintenance, alongside complete water damage restoration including water extraction, structural drying, and reconstruction services when necessary.

"Property owners often underestimate the complexity of water damage restoration following a plumbing failure," added Newman. "Our integrated service model ensures that every aspect of the incident is addressed professionally, from stopping the water source to restoring the property to its pre-damage condition."

Crown Plumbing & Water Damage Restoration serves residential and commercial properties throughout San Antonio and surrounding communities. The company specializes in comprehensive plumbing services including installation, repair, and maintenance, alongside full-service water damage restoration, fire damage restoration, mold remediation, and property reconstruction. Additional services include asbestos testing and removal, sewage cleanup, and drain and sewer services. The company maintains certification in water damage restoration and employs experienced plumbers and restoration technicians to ensure quality service delivery across all service lines.
