

A&M Roofing - Springfield Expands Siding Services Across Northern Virginia Region

April 03, 2026

SPRINGFIELD, VA - April 03, 2026 -

A&M Roofing - Springfield has announced an expansion of its comprehensive exterior home improvement services throughout Northern Virginia, reinforcing its commitment to providing integrated roofing, siding, and exterior renovation solutions to homeowners across the region. The nearly two-decade-old company continues to build on its established reputation for quality workmanship and customer satisfaction.

The Springfield-based contractor has seen increased demand for coordinated exterior home improvements, particularly as homeowners seek single-source solutions for roofing, siding, windows, and gutter systems. This integrated approach allows property owners to address multiple exterior needs while ensuring consistent quality and workmanship across all projects.

"Homeowners in Northern Virginia are increasingly looking for contractors who can handle comprehensive exterior renovations rather than managing multiple vendors," said Mark Collins of A&M Roofing -

Springfield. "Our expanded service capacity allows us to deliver complete exterior transformations while maintaining the high standards that have earned us an A+ rating with the Better Business Bureau."

As certified installers for leading manufacturers including Velux, Mastic, and James Hardie, the company brings specialized expertise to each project. The team of roofers in Northern Virginia has been trusted for nearly twenty years now, and offers enhanced coordination between roofing and siding installations, ensuring proper integration of all exterior components for maximum weather protection and energy efficiency.

The expansion comes as the company continues to maintain its position as a preferred contractor for multiple leading shingle manufacturers. This accreditation provides homeowners with access to extended warranty options and ensures installations meet the highest industry standards. The company's expertise extends beyond traditional asphalt shingles to include synthetic slate, metal roofing, and flat roofing systems.

A&M Roofing's roof installation in Springfield, VA, requires the company to employ advanced techniques and materials designed to withstand the region's varied weather conditions. The integration of skylight installations, including solar-powered options with rain sensors, represents another dimension of the company's comprehensive approach to exterior home improvement.

"Our goal has always been to provide Northern Virginia homeowners with reliable, long-lasting exterior solutions," added Collins. "By expanding our siding services and maintaining our focus on quality across all service lines, we can better serve the evolving needs of our community while upholding the standards that have defined our work for nearly two decades."

A&M Roofing - Springfield maintains memberships in both the Virginia Association of Roofing Professionals and the Northern Virginia Chamber of Commerce, demonstrating its commitment to professional excellence and community involvement. The company specializes in custom fabrication of seamless gutter systems on-site, window and door replacement services, and comprehensive exterior inspections. As a locally owned and operated business, A&M Roofing - Springfield combines traditional craftsmanship with modern technology to deliver energy-efficient solutions tailored to each home's specific requirements.
