

A&M Roofing Highlights Two Decades of Excellence as Leading Northern Virginia Roofing Contractor

April 03, 2026

MCLEAN, VA - April 03, 2026 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

A&M Roofing, a McLean-based roofing company serving the Northern Virginia region for over twenty years, is emphasizing its commitment to quality workmanship and customer satisfaction as property owners prepare for seasonal roof assessments and necessary replacements.

The company, which has built a strong reputation for comprehensive roofing services throughout the region, continues to see increased demand for its expertise in roof replacement, repair, and maintenance services. With the average residential roof requiring replacement every fifteen to twenty years, A&M Roofing reports that many Northern Virginia homeowners are discovering their roofs have exceeded their expected lifespan during routine inspections.

"After two decades of serving this community, we understand that roof replacement represents a significant investment for property owners," said Mark Collins, a spokesperson for A&M Roofing. "Our HAAG-certified technicians conduct thorough assessments to help homeowners make informed decisions about their roofing needs, whether that involves targeted repairs or complete replacement."

The Northern Virginia roofing company offers a comprehensive range of services, including new roof installation, complete roof replacement, storm damage repair, and routine maintenance programs designed to extend roof longevity. The company's technicians also provide gutter and siding services, along with assistance for windows and doors, making them a comprehensive resource for exterior home improvement projects.

Recent customer feedback has highlighted the company's attention to detail and professional approach. One recent project involved replacing a 34-year-old roof over the course of two days, with the homeowner praising the thorough inspection process and competitive proposal provided by the company's team.

A&M Roofing distinguishes itself through its use of quality materials and industry certifications. All company technicians maintain proper certifications and insurance coverage, ensuring that each project meets or exceeds industry standards. The company's HAAG-certified roof inspectors are trained to identify potential problem areas and provide expert recommendations for maintenance and repair strategies.

For property owners seeking roofing replacement in McLean, VA, the company's long-standing presence in the community has made it a trusted resource. The combination of experienced contractors, quality materials, and comprehensive service offerings has positioned A&M Roofing as a reliable partner for both residential and commercial property owners throughout Northern Virginia.

"We take pride in meeting and exceeding our customers' expectations on every project," added Collins. "Whether addressing storm damage, conducting routine maintenance, or managing a complete roof replacement, our goal remains consistent: protecting homes and businesses with quality roofing solutions that stand the test of time."

A&M Roofing is a licensed roofing contractor that has been serving McLean and the greater Northern Virginia area for over twenty years. The company specializes in residential and commercial roofing services, including installation, replacement, repair, and maintenance, along with comprehensive exterior remodeling services, including gutters, siding, windows, and doors.
