April 18, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Providence, Rhode Island based company, Now Athletics LLC, has announced a new yoga mat to their lineup. The company provides yoga classes and products for consumers. The company believes that yoga can help in enhancing people's health.

Per Davidson, spokesperson for the company, states, "Yoga is a great way to reverse aging and generally feel and be healthier." Davidson explains that there is a book titled, "Ancient Secret Of The Fountain Of Youth", which was written by Peter Kelder, that outlines yoga and its benefits. In the book, the author describes a particular series of yogic exercises which are purported to reverse the aging process.

"As incredible as it may seem, yoga just may be a way to stay young for a very long time," says Davidson. "Scientific studies may verify or refute some of these claims in the near future." Davidson states that for this reason, the company has released its yoga mat, as a means of helping those who want to make yoga part of their lifestyle.

The company's ECO TPE Yoga Mat is a closed cell mat, which offers sweat resistance, according to Davidson. Closed cell mats do not absorb sweat, so they will not deteriorate as quickly as other mats. The company states that this also helps the user to avoid contact with bacteria. The mat is also easy to clean and Davidson states that it stays cleaner and dries faster than other mats due to the material.

The mat is currently available for purchase through the Amazon marketplace. The company states that it contains no toxic chemicals in the makeup and is latex and rubber free. Now Athletics offers the new mat for a number of yoga practices including Pilates, Hatha yoga, Bikram, and a variety of others.

Now Athletics provides yoga classes, training, and a variety of products that the company states are all designed to help individuals to live longer and healthier lives. A list of classes and locations can be seen on the company's official website.
