

The Allen Thomas Group Streamlines Certificate of Insurance Process for Contractors Ahead of Busy Construction Season

April 13, 2026

Akron, Ohio - April 13, 2026 -
The Allen Thomas Group, an independent insurance agency serving contractors across 27 states, has announced enhanced support services designed to help construction professionals efficiently obtain certificates of insurance, bonds, and comprehensive business coverage as the industry enters its peak season.

With spring construction activity accelerating and summer projects on the horizon, contractors face increasing demands for proper insurance documentation to secure new contracts and maintain compliance. The Akron, Ohio-based agency has developed a streamlined process specifically tailored to meet the unique needs of construction businesses during this critical period.

The agency, which is licensed in 27 states including recent expansions to Minnesota and West Virginia, provides specialized insurance solutions for contractors ranging from general liability and professional liability to contractor's tools and equipment coverage. Their multi-state presence enables construction companies to maintain consistent coverage as they take on projects across state lines.

"Construction professionals need more than just insurance policies; they need a partner who understands the fast-paced nature of their industry and can deliver certificates of insurance quickly when bidding deadlines are tight," said Joe Race, spokesperson for The Allen Thomas Group. "Our focused approach helps contractors secure the right bonds and coverage they need to protect their operations while positioning themselves to win more projects during the busy season."

The agency's comprehensive contractor insurance program addresses the full spectrum of risks construction businesses face, from property damage and equipment theft to liability claims and workplace accidents. Their services encompass general liability insurance, builder's risk insurance, commercial auto insurance, and workers' compensation coverage, all accessible through their dedicated contractor page at https://allenthomasgroup.com/commercial-insurance/industries/contractors/.

Beyond standard coverage options, the agency provides guidance on obtaining surety bonds, which are often required for public works projects and larger commercial contracts. This comprehensive approach ensures contractors can meet all insurance and bonding requirements when pursuing new business opportunities.

The timing of this enhanced support coincides with industry data showing construction activity typically increases by 30 to 40 percent during the spring and summer months. For many contractors, having rapid access to certificates of insurance can mean the difference between winning and losing a bid.

The Allen Thomas Group maintains partnerships with multiple A-rated insurance carriers, allowing them to match contractors with appropriate coverage at competitive rates. Their agents provide regular policy reviews to ensure coverage remains aligned with business growth and changing project requirements.

The agency serves various construction trades, including carpentry, concrete contracting, drywall installation, electrical work, excavation, fence installation, hvac, landscaping, plumbing, steel erection and numerous other specialties. Each trade faces unique risks and insurance requirements, which the agency addresses through customized coverage solutions.
