LONDON, UK - September 22, 2026 -

Near Me Plumbers Limited has expanded its emergency plumbing and heating coverage to serve residents and landlords across the Greenwich and Oval areas of London. The move responds to growing demand for round-the-clock plumbing support in these South London neighbourhoods, where older housing stock often requires urgent attention to leaks, boiler faults, and drainage issues.

The expanded service brings a full range of plumbing and heating capabilities to local homeowners and property managers, including 24/7 emergency call-outs with a targeted one-hour response time. The company reports that faster local coverage aims to reduce the disruption caused by unexpected breakdowns, particularly during colder months when boiler and central heating faults tend to rise.

Beyond emergency work, the company offers landlord certificates, which are legal documents confirming that a property's gas and electrical systems have been inspected and are safe to use. Landlords across the area are legally required to maintain valid certificates, and the expanded coverage is intended to make compliance more accessible for local property owners.

The company's services also include electrical installations and repairs, gas appliance work, bathroom installations and renovations, drainage services such as drain unblocking and CCTV surveys, boiler and cylinder installations, and central heating maintenance. General plumbing work, including leak repairs and routine maintenance, forms part of the broader offering now available to residents in the region.

Arthur Sokoli, spokesperson for Near Me Plumbers Limited, noted that the decision to broaden local coverage reflects the practical needs of South London households.

"Plumbing and heating problems rarely happen at convenient times, and residents across Greenwich and Oval have told us they want a local team they can reach at any hour," Sokoli said. "Expanding coverage in these areas allows engineers to respond quickly and helps landlords stay on top of their safety obligations without unnecessary delays."

The service covers both routine and complex projects, from a single leak repair to a full central heating installation. According to the company, its coverage under Near Me Plumbers Greenwich - Plumber Oval is designed to give residents a single point of contact for a wide spectrum of plumbing and heating needs.

Sokoli added that seasonal demand often catches households unprepared. "Boiler breakdowns and blocked drains are among the most common issues reported during the winter period, and having engineers positioned locally makes a measurable difference to how fast those situations can be resolved," he said.

The company also provides boiler installation options that include extended warranty terms, energy-efficient A-rated units, and financing arrangements, giving households a range of choices when replacing ageing heating equipment. Installations can be completed within short timeframes to minimise the period a property is left without heat or hot water.
